C. I. O. Prepares To Call Steel Strike

WAR CHEST ASSEMBLED BY LEADERS

Real Test of Strength Is Expected in Mills of U. S. Subsidiaries

WASHINGTON, Dec. 19.—(UP)—A strike in the $5,000,000 steel industry, which the Committee for Industrial Organization is attempting to unionize, is "almost inevitable," an associate of John L. Lewis said today.

The CIO, headed by the militant Lewis, has been assembling a huge "war chest" to further its drive for unionization of 500,000 steel workers.

"We will be ready for action when the time comes," a CIO official said. Several small strikes already have occurred in mills along the Ohio river and in the Chicago district. The real test of CIO strength, however, is expected in the mills of U. S. Steel and its subsidiaries.

U. S. WEBB ASKS GAMBLING DRIVE

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 19.—(UP)—Attorney General U. S. Webb today has launched a drive against gambling in California by addressing a "get-together" of 300 peace officers to "exchange views on law enforcement."

Webb said whist, pinocchio, bingo, tango, slot machines, pin ball games, and mechanical cranes were some of the forms of gambling popular in the state. Others were the "regular games," such as poker, dice, roulette, and the Chinese lottery.

Police officers were instructed to "get arrests" and the district attorneys "to get convictions."

GUNBOAT ORDERED TO N. Y. NAVY YARD

WASHINGTON, Dec. 19.—(UP)—The navy department today ordered the U. S. gunboat Erie, which was fired upon by a Spanish Nationalist battleship yesterday, to return to the New York navy yard via the Azores.

Navy officials said the Erie had been relieved of its temporary assignment to the European squadron. The gunboat, launched less than six months ago, was on its "shake-down" cruise when it was assigned to the European squadron to permit routine repairs.

The Spanish rebel battleship Espana fired in the direction of the Erie yesterday while the American ship was anchored in the port of Gijon. One shell fell a few hundred yards from the American vessel.

A paper found in his clothing bore the name: Paul B. Kinsley, Denver. Police said the man was about 30.

EDEN WARNS GERMANY ON REBEL HELP

British Claim Trained Men Dispatched to Spain by Nazi Government

LONDON, Dec. 19.—(UP)—Unofficial but usually reliable sources said today that Capt. Anthony Eden, foreign secretary, firmly warned the German ambassador, Joachim Von Ribbentrop, of Great Britain's grave view of Germany's dispatch of "volunteers" to Spain.

Eden and Von Ribbentrop had conferred yesterday morning and the envoy was understood to be leaving immediately—possibly today—for Berlin to report the British misgivings to Chancellor Adolf Hitler.

Coincidentally, the Manchester Guardian's diplomatic correspondent reported Germany was sending regular army units to Spain under the guise of "volunteers" to fight with the rebel forces there. He identified some of the German troops in Spain as being from the 6th grenadiers and 13th infantry regiments, ordinarily stationed at Munster, in Westphalia.

The United Press also understood 14 members of Von Ribbentrop's diplomatic staff and 12 personal servants of the ambassador are departing for Berlin simultaneously with his trip.

The German ambassador was reported to have indicated to Eden that Germany is willing to take measures to ban the sending of volunteers, providing all other powers concerned take similar action.

A second contingency he was said to have made was that the ban be extended to all forms of so-called indirect intervention in the Spanish civil war, meaning primarily financial assistance such as is allegedly being afforded the popular front government by Soviet Russia and France.

British quarters appeared dissatisfied, especially with the second German condition. They regarded the "volunteer" troops question as separate from the indirect interference to which Berlin was believed to have expressed objection.

POPE CANCELS YULE PROGRAM

VATICAN CITY, Dec. 19.—(UP)—A semi-official source at the Vatican said today the traditional reception by the Pope of the College of Cardinals Christmas eve had been cancelled.

It was understood the decision, if adhered to, would be in deference to the fear of Prof. Armita Milani, the Pope's private physician, that the pontiff would be subjected to undue strain by the audience.

Christmas eve is the occasion on which the cardinals visit the Pope and extend Christmas and New Year greetings. It is customary for the Pope to respond. This year, the Pope hoped despite his failing health to review the world situation and particularly to appeal for peace in Spain.

Only a few hours before the semi-official assertion that the audience had been cancelled, officials said the Pope seemed rested after a comfortable night, and was in good spirits when his valet awakened him at 7 o'clock.

WORK UNDER WAY ON POPPY PROJECT HERE

"Here's how," says A. N. Zerman, extreme left, Kiwanis Club member and one of the committeemen in charge of Santa Ana's poppy-planting and beautification project, as he instructs workman. He is planting the poppy seeds on a parking on North Main street, and getting the crew of three started. On the right, another one of the workmen breaking the first ground Thursday morning, and the team of mules with plow.

CLUSTER FIGHT OPENS SUNDAY

HAVANA, Dec. 19.—(UP)—Supporters of Col. Fulgencio Batista, Cuba's strong man, said today that a bill of impeachment would be brought against President Miguel Mariano Gomez, who has rebelled against army dictatorship, in a special session of the house Sunday or Monday.

Batista sent his controversial nine-cents-a-bag sugar tax bill, passed overwhelmingly by both houses of congress, to the president with plain inference that he sign it "or else."

Gomez said the bill would be vetoed because its $3,000,000 tax income will be spent on 3000 rural schools under army control. Gomez said this would lead to Fascism.

Batista supporters, claiming they had 129 representatives willing to back impeachment charges—they need only 108 to impeach—began grooming Laredo Bru, 70-year-old vice president—a shrewd politician and friend of the army, to take the president's job.

They summoned Rep. Leandro Cajas from Atlanta, Ga., and Rep. Gabriel Kanda from New York City for the impeachment session, indicating that regardless of what Gomez now did, the friction which has been steadily growing between him and Batista, since he took office last May, has reached a show-down.

CHARGES DENIED BY MRS. MCPHERSON

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 19.—(UP)—Alma Temple McPherson entered a specific denial for each of 19 charges in the $1,800,000 slander suit filed by her former associate, Temple associate, Rubea Crawford Spilvato, in an answer on file today in superior court.

The evangelist denied she had ever called Mrs. Spilvato "a Judas," "a Jezebel," or "the mistress of a governor."

The document contained a counter-charge that before Mrs. Spilvato left on a trip to Hawaii, she allegedly told Alma she would drop the fight she had been carrying on against the city administration. Alma alleged her former associate said:

Car Owners Lose Means Of Protest

WASHINGTON, Dec. 19.—(UP)—District of Columbia commissioners removed one means of protest from motorists dissatisfied with their cars.

They made it a misdemeanor to drive or park a car "painted or adorned in such a manner as to cast reflection, scornful derision or ridicule upon any make or type of vehicle."

The ordinance followed appearance of signs reading: "I bought a — and got a lemon."

SITE FOR CITY HALL SELECTED

Selecting the corner of Highland and Commonwealth avenues as the site for the new $87,000 city hall, members of the Fullerton city council, last night, announced that work on the building will be started prior to February 11.

Announcing the selection of a city hall site the councilmen voted to purchase the property on the northwest corner of the intersection, just across the street from the first location, in Commonwealth park, which was turned down recently by voters of the city.

The nine lots to be purchased by the city are owned by Mrs. George Snyder, Fullerton; E. A. Milne, La Verne, and Adam Brande, Fullerton. The total purchase price will be $28,500, just 10 per cent more than the assessed value of the property. Money for the purchase will be borrowed from the city water department fund.

Notification of the property purchase will be sent to FWA officials immediately in order that the city may secure an extension of time in securing the federal grant to assist with the building project. Councilmen had been informed that no extension would be granted unless definite action in naming a site had been taken.

NEW GUARD FOR PRESIDENT NAMED

WASHINGTON, Dec. 19.—(UP)—Thomas J. Quarters of the Massachusetts State police will succeed the late Gus Gennrich as President Roosevelt's bodyguard, the White House announced today.

POPPY PROJECT RECEIVES AID

Checks and pledges totaling $180 today were in hands of the local chief committee in charge of Santa Ana's poppy-planting and civic beautification project, virtually assuring the city of a flower and shrubbery display next spring that doubtless will attract state-wide comment and draw praise from thousands of tourists next year.

Jubilant and greatly encouraged by financial and moral support on almost every hand, Mrs. Ora K. Heine, chairman of the group, this morning received reports from three more organizations to the effect that each was contributing $30 to the beautification project.

These organizations are the Lions club, the Realty board and the Rotary club. Three others, the Elks, American Legion and the Kiwanis club, were among the first to contribute $30 apiece.

"With this backing," said Mrs. Heine in behalf of the entire committee, "and the assurance of continued support from throughout the city, we are sure to go ahead rapidly. We greatly appreciate the willingness of the various organizations."

PROCLAMATION FOR KING GEORGE READ

LONDON, Dec. 19.—(UP)—The coronation proclamation for George VI on May 12 was read with traditional pomp and ceremony by the royal heralds in various parts of London today.

The proclamation was first read in Friary court of St. James' palace, in the presence of a large crowd. Smaller throngs attended the readings at Charing Cross, Temple Bar and at the Royal Exchange, the public realizing it merely was a technical aftermath of last Saturday's proclamation of the Duke of York as King George VI, succeeding Edward VIII, who abdicated for the love of Mrs. Wallis Simpson.

King George and Queen Elizabeth with their two daughters motored to the royal lodge at Windsor castle for the weekend.

The operation was described by Dr. Tobey as minor and entirely successful.

Roosevelt has been in the hospital since November 25 for treatment of sinus and throat infections.

FAINT RADIO CALLS HEARD EARLY TODAY

Fail to Find Any Trace of Two Missing Airplanes; Signals Checked

SALT LAKE CITY, Utah, Dec. 19.—(UP)—Nineteen airplanes roared southward along the Salt Lake City-Los Angeles air route today, cutting a theoretical 50-mile swath along the commercial airway where a Western Air Express transport and seven persons disappeared early Tuesday.

Hold Little Hope Western Air Express officials directing a land and air search for the company's missing transport plane held little hope today that faint radio signals heard early today would prove of material value in finding the plane and its seven occupants.

George Keyser, Salt Lake City traffic manager, said the signals were picked up by operators at Salt Lake airport, about 8 p. m. Virtually the only thing distinguishable, he said, was "St. George."

Signals Very Light "The signals were so very light, they were virtually of no benefit to us," Keyser said. "I don't see how they can be of any value unless they are repeated and are stronger. Operators are standing by, hoping they will be able to pick up something more."

"It was like a message from Mars," Keyser said. "It might have been transmitted from anywhere, or might have been some amateur."

The fliers were favored by the best weather yet to prevail during the five-day hunt for the liner which vanished within a few miles of its destination at Salt Lake City on a flight from Los Angeles.

With virtually every other possibility exhausted, today's search along and bordering the regular air channel was intended to determine finally whether Pilot S.

STRIKE VIEWS TOLD IN TALKS

NEW YORK, Dec. 19.—(UP)—Differences between employers and union workers in the strike of waterfront workers on the Atlantic, Gulf and Pacific coasts were aired today in a trans-continental radio debate in which both sides pleaded for public support.

Speaking over the Columbia network from San Francisco, Roger D. Lapham, president of the American-Hawaiian Steamship company, stated that throughout the strike employers have offered to submit the entire issue to arbitration, but that workers have refused.

Joseph Curran, chairman of the strike strategy committee in New York, described conditions under which sailors and licensed personnel on shipboard work as unsatisfactory and said their training and responsibility was such that they were entitled to higher pay.

Lapham defended the attitude of employers, declaring that it should be the right of the owners of shipping to be able freely to choose the persons into whose hands their property was entrusted.

Lapham pleaded for a settlement, stating he wanted to stress the "futility of the strike and its destructive effect on the United States."

Curran said the sailor today is a skilled workman, and the licensed officers on shipboard are required to have ability, training and experience such as would qualify them for much higher paid executive positions in other lines of work ashore.

MEXICO CANCELS SHIP WORK ORDER

MEXICO CITY, Mex., Dec. 19.—(UP)—The Mexican gunboat Guanajuato was ordered today not to undergo repairs at Los Angeles harbor by non-union workers.

INTEREST IN REGISTER TREE CONTEST RIFE

Numerous questions regarding the Christmas tree home window display contest being held between now and Christmas eve by the chamber of commerce and The Register, reveal a city-wide interest in details of entering the contest.

One of the most frequently asked question is, "How are the judges to judge the trees and when will the judging be done?"

Judges will view the trees from outside the windows of homes without contacting the home occupants," R. M. Conklin, Register circulation manager, pointed out. "The judging will be done at a time to be fixed by the judges and at an hour which will be known only by the judges. Of course, the judges will not view the trees until the owners announce, by their coupon entry blanks, that they are ready to have the trees judged."

The coupon entry blank will be found today on Page 2. Here are the simple rules of the contest for which any one living in a Santa Ana home is eligible to enter: 1. Size of tree to be decorated makes no difference but must be placed inside the home, adjacent to a window. 2. Judges will make their decisions on beauty of trees and decorations only. 3. All judging done from outside of the contestants' homes without contacting occupants of the homes. 4. When you are ready to have tree judged, clip coupon from The Register and mail or deliver to Register office. 5. Only residents of Santa Ana homes are eligible to enter contest but no Register employee is eligible. 6. Contest closes Christmas eve.

KEN Murray SAYS:

NEW YORK, Dec. 19.—They say that all men are created equal, but most of us must have certainly been left at the post, when you read that forty-one persons in this country had an income of over a million dollars last year. . . . Seems like these millionaires just sprout up everywhere, in spite of all the Administration's efforts to keep 'em ploughed under.

Yes sir! It certainly sounds good to hear that somebody is really in the money again. . . . Since 1929, the only ones who talked in terms of millions were the bacteriologists.

While some people may doubt that these figures on the tax returns are reliable, Uncle Sam has made it so that it's not only a sin to tell a lie, but also a fine.

P. S. I imagine that in order for the wolf to get under those millionaires' homes, he'd have to come disguised in ermine wraps.

FORGER GIVEN 12 YEARS TO LIFE IN PRISON

King Jackson not only committed one forgery too many, he committed several too many.

So, when he was sentenced to Folsom by Superior Judge James L. Allen yesterday, instead of receiving a term of from one to 14 years, he found himself facing a sentence of from 12 years to life.

Besides the local offense, consisting of passing a forged check for $25 to Mrs. Clara Lake, proprietor of a dress shop in Anaheim, Jackson had two previous prison terms on his record, in Washington state prison in 1923, and again in 1921.

Under California law, two prior sentences mean that he must serve at least 12 years for the offense currently charged. He will not be even eligible to parole until 12 years have been served, according to Assistant District Attorney James L. Davis.

Had there been three prior sentences on his record, it would have meant a life term for Jackson, as an habitual criminal. He missed that fate narrowly. The district attorney's office originally charged him with three prior convictions, but dismissed one of them when Jackson pleaded guilty to the other two, as well as the current offense.

Jackson's young wife, Pearl Jackson, whom he married in Oregon and brought to California with him, to help spread a trail of forged checks throughout the length of the state, recently was placed on probation for two years, with a jail sentence attached. She said that Jackson had forced her to participate in his crimes.

He had himself told the court he came to California to "make a fresh start". He didn't wait long to do it, after crossing the state line. At Redding, near the northern border, he purchased a check protector machine, and used it in his subsequent forgery operations, to make checks look more authentic.

He cashed forged checks at Redding, San Francisco, Salinas and Anaheim, and had two more checks in his possession when arrested.

SHANGHAI, Sunday, Dec. 20.—(UP)—The National government has warned Young Marshal Chang Hsueh-Liang it would send planes to bomb his rebel headquarters at Sian-Fu unless he releases Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek immediately. It was announced officially today.

The warning gave Marshal Chang three days, including today, to permit the generalissimo to go free but declared if he were not released by then—presumably Monday night—bombing operations would start.

NEW "RACKET" IS PRACTICED ON STORE HERE

A new kind of "racket" was practiced here yesterday with success as a local department store was "taken in" by an alleged petty thief who asked for and was given a job as salesman.

The man, described as 32 years old, five feet seven inches tall, weighing 145 pounds, being clean-shaven, of light complexion and having thin, light hair, and wearing a neat but well-worn blue serge suit, assertedly entered the store, contacted the manager and asked for a job. According to investigation of Detective Sergeant Hunter Leach, the man gave his name as "Fred Morton, resident of 225 Gale avenue, Anaheim." Then he produced numerous names and addresses of "references" and revealed them to the manager. With the rush of Christmas business, he was put to work at once.

A short time after beginning his "duties" as shoe clerk, he sold a pair of boots to a customer, took one boot with him toward the rear of the store, together with the customer's $10 bill "to get the box and wrap up your boots."

Dropping the boot near a side door, "Morton" left the store. Neither he nor the $10 bill has been seen since. A checkup reveals "Morton's" name, address and the names and addresses of "references" are assertedly false.

NEW FOUNTAIN IS DEDICATED FOR GREEN BILL LOAN BY BOARD

Following a moment of silence and darkness last night a blaze of multi-colored lights shot skyward in Fullerton's Hillcrest park as the city's beautiful new water and electric fountain was dedicated to the public.

As the blaze of light pierced the darkness small up-shooting sprays that provided a vase-like setting for the tall spray painting a brilliantly lighted water picture. The play of water and lights continued through the evening painting shifting pictures in colors of red, purple, green, blue, white, amber and combinations of the colors.

The turning on of the lights followed a brief ceremony introducing all who had a share in erection of the fountain. The fountain, said to be the loveliest of its kind in Southern California, was constructed as a WPA project. In the future it will be in operation for four hours each night. It is constructed of desert stone, high on the hillside facing Spadra road. Terraces and walks surrounding the fountain are constructed of the same stone.

Following the lighting of the fountain Tozier's band played "Nightfall at the Fountain." This was followed by a broadcast of Christmas carols.

During the brief introductory ceremony Thomas Kuchel, assemblyman-elect from the 15th district, acted as master-of-ceremonies and introduced the official family of the city. Robert Phelps, WPA engineer, representing Dan Mulhern, special assistant to District Director George White, Mayor, Harry G. Maxwell, Ted Corcoran, former councilman who first planned the fountain and former Mayors William Hale and Harry Crooke. Harry F. Smith, president of the Chamber of Commerce, introduced Kuchel.

LOYALISTS OPEN ARTILLERY ATTACK

MADRID, Dec. 19.—(UP)—Loyalists defending besieged Madrid, fearing a rebel air raid as dense fog lifted, began a terrific artillery attack on the insurgents' positions today.

Heavy guns roared from the capital defenses after a night of terror awaiting the rebel raid. The rebels had flown over Madrid dropping leaflets announcing that when the thick mists dispersed they again would bomb the capital.

The gray, thick mists and bitter cold paralyzed military activity on the Madrid front for 24 hours. Rescue workers dug in debris in the Tetuan De Las Victorias workers' suburb, seeking bodies of victims in Wednesday's rebel air raid.

$612,000 PAID FOR GREEN BILL LOAN BY BOARD

The Santa Ana school district yesterday made full repayment of $612,000 to the state Board of Public Building Reconstruction, for state to reconstruct local school the Green Bill loan made by the buildings damaged by the 1933 earthquake.

The second payment arrived in time to include it with the high school payment, and wipe out the entire Green Bill obligation at once. The school's check for $612,000 was forwarded immediately, to Sacramento, without waiting for accumulated interest to be computed. This was done in order to save approximately $60 per day interest for every day the payment is delayed. The interest charge up to January 1, the regular interest date, would have been approximately $18,000.

The new bonds bear an interest rate more than 2 per cent lower than the 4.4 rate carried by the Green Bill loan, which was the reason for floating the new bonds. It is estimated that about $138,000 in interest will thus be saved.

Although only $611,000 in new bonds were voted, the Green Bill loan actually amounted to $612,000, the high school loan amounting to fractional hundreds above $487,000, and the elementary loan being fractional hundreds above $124,000. The district made up the extra $1000 from current funds.

izations to help, and we are certain they will be amply rewarded by results of the project."

One of the most important announcements yesterday afternoon at the general committee meeting, came from A. N. Zerman. He told the group, which included A. A. Wilken, newly elected president of the Realty board, that negotiations were under way to provide for the cultivation of ground and planting of poppy seeds in all parkings on South Main street from Fairview avenue to Delhi road. It was pointed out that thousands would travel this route in the spring and summer on the way to the beaches.

Meanwhile, the crew of workmen that began planting yesterday morning on North Main street, was progressing rapidly. They soon will be ready to transfer work to North Flower street, where their efforts will be joined with work under the supervision of the Native Daughters of the Golden West.

Boy Scouts of Santa Ana later will be looked upon to care for the long stripe of poppy beds, and committeemen were relying on the city to water the plants as they grow to maturity and full bloom.

With the receipt of checks and pledges from leading organizations. Mrs. Heine and Mrs. Robert C. Tuthill, head of the original committee, pointed out today that contributions, regardless of size, would be gladly accepted from all other groups, clubs, organizations or individuals throughout the city.

Weekly Citrus Review

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 19.—(UP)—While average prices were unchanged compared with last week as a whole, large sizes were a little higher in price while small sizes were a little lower.

The volume of sales exceeded last week's record. After Monday or Tuesday of next week, however, business will necessarily be very light. Auction markets will not hold sales on Thursday of next week. After Christmas dealers will be busy working stocks down for inventory taking purposes and as a result business is expected to be at a very low ebb. These factors will upset the market on navel oranges considerably and just what the situation will develop after the holidays is problematical.

On January 1, the duty on citrus fruits into Canada is off for a period of four months. This will stimulate sales in Canadian markets. For navel oranges on a basis of $2.50 to $2.65 on 100s and larger; $2.40 to $2.55 on 12s; $2.25 to $2.40 on 10s; $2.15 to $2.25 on 8s; $2 to $2.15 on 6s; $1.90 to $2 on 4s; $1.75 to $1.90 on 2s.

The prorate on navel oranges for next week is set at 500 cars interstate and 135 cars intrastate for Central California and 100 cars interstate and 15 cars intrastate for Southern California districts.

The markets on California lemons is practically unchanged although a little better demand was noted. There are on hand and available for sale within the next 30 days in all United States ports, no foreign lemons, for the corresponding period in 1935 there were 11 cars; 1934, 6 cars; 1933, 6 cars; 1932, 3 cars and 1931, 9 cars.

FAIL TO FIND MISSING PLANES

J. Samson veered off his radio direction beam and crashed or was forced down within a few miles of his course.

While many planes cruised down the charted airline and paralleling sectors, an air search base was established at Milford, Utah, from where Samson last reported by radio at 2:23 a. m. advising headquarters "everything okay."

CLEAR SKIES HELP IN SEARCH FOR SHIP

SPOKANE, Wash., Dec. 19.—(UP)—Under clear skies and ideal flying conditions, National Guard, commercial and private airplanes took to the air today in a renewed effort to locate Joe Livermore and his co-pilot, A. A. Hald, who were lost early yesterday enroute to Spokane from Missoula, Mont.

The search spread over a 150 mile area today, extending from the Pend Oreille lakes in the northern part of the Idaho panhandle down to Moscow and Lewiston.

Because of reports from the Pend Oreille lakes, National Guard ships concentrated in that area.

Aiding the airmen from the ground were hundreds of searchers fanning out from Sandpoint, Ida. An unidentified man reported to Coeur D'Alene sheriffs office last night that early yesterday evening he and his family were hiking down a forest trail in the Bayview region and heard calls for help. The man said he answered, heard the calls repeated and then ceased.

Loggers Comb Territory

Meanwhile, loggers, CCC workers and townspeople were combing the territory around the Panhandle towns of Orofino, Elk River, St. Maires, Potlatch and Bobila. Parties were organized in Pullman and Colfax, Wash., and Moscow, Ida.

DEATH NOTICES

Until you put your heart in to it, an ideal is abstract, spineless and ineffective. It is the more force than a pretty fairy story. Realize God's love for you and what the love and faith of your dear one demands for you. Try to respond with the best that you have to give, and your ideal of what you ought to do will become a compelling force to transform and exalt your life.
The days just ahead will be hard and you will be tempted to repine. Power from God will well up within you; you will go bravely on to do your best; you will not fall those whose love and trust you have.

GROWERS' BATTLE HALTED BY TRUCE

Orange county's and the state's enigma and "bitter battle" over the tomato growers and cannery problems, has been temporarily halted by a truce that either will be cemented or torn apart at another conference in Los Angeles Friday, Jan. 15.

This was the announcement today of R. D. Flaherty, secretary of the Orange county farm bureau, and Ross Crane, assistant farm advisor, who returned to the city late yesterday from a growers and cannery parley in Los Angeles.

"There was much discussion at the meeting," Flaherty said, "and after indications that a spirited fight would be made by both sides, it was decided to submit the whole problem into the various Southern California counties. The matter will be thoroughly checked and discussed, and results reported to another conference in Los Angeles Jan. 15."

It was reported from Berkeley yesterday that the 1936 "price, approximately $10 to $12 a ton for tomatoes delivered at the cannery, not acceptable to the state farm bureau." The cannery reportedly would not "yield one cent" to demands for more equitable contracts.

Young People Gather From College Halls For Yule Recess

With the coming of Christmas holidays, Santa Ana's young people away at schools and universities are enjoying every mode of transportation to come home to be with their parents. Some are bringing school friends with them, others coming alone.

Miss Patty Rapp, who has been studying at University of Indiana, at Bloomington, could not reach California quickly enough, so she flew from the eastern city and arrived yesterday at Burbank where she was met by her mother, Mrs. Howard Rapp. Another student taking to the air was Janet Diehl, who came down from University of California last Sunday and was also met at Burbank by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ellis C. Diehl.

University of Southern California students have been home for some time, some being employed in this city and helping during the holiday rush. Students from Santa Ana, include Lucian Wilson, Ione Hooven, Mary Jane Sturgeon, Edna Wilson, Walt Bandick, Marvin Spicer, Florence Liggett, Mary Eileen Dudley, Charlotte Mock, Jean Goodwin, Hubert Nalle Jr., Louise Sexton, Patricia McClure, Jack Peques, Miles Norton, Lorraine Turk, Jack Robinson, Bob Reid, Beatrice Gramas, while George Robertson and Jimmie Crowther are working in Los Angeles and will be home later in the vacation.

There isn't so much holiday joy for Miss Liggett, however, for she was rushed to St. Joseph hospital for an emergency appendectomy so will not have Christmas at home with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Delbert Liggett, 2333 Bonnie Brae.

Coming down from University of California at Berkeley are Barbara Davis, Lucille Griset, Dorothy Guthrie, Ruth Warner, Marjorie Lindsey, Stephen Bruff, Bill Dolan, Richard Foster, Stanley Wilson, Addison Bowers and Margaret Finley Blower who will spend the time with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Finley. She will be joined later by her husband, Floyd Blower, who is in Georgia with the college football team.

Several local students are attending University of Redlands and are all coming home the same day. They are Grace Jenkins, Katherine Belle Bolton, Dorothy Robinson and Harry Owings, son of the Rev. and Mrs. Harry Evans Owings.

U. C. L. A. has been out for several days and most of the Santa Anans are home, although one, Henrietta Heemstra, daughter of Mrs. Flora Heemstra, has come and gone again, going to Shelbyville, Ky., to spend the holidays with college friends. The others, Barbara Crawford, Bernice Bronson, Medora Smith, Yvette Blank, Peter Plumb, Betty Martin, Elsie Stephens, Edward K. Robinson, Jean Jordan, Frank Kroemer and Eleanor Bowyer are home, while Joan Crawford, of Orange, and Marian Hawk, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Chester E. Hawk, are employed in Los Angeles and will not finish until the day before Christmas.

From Scripps, come Nancy White, Dorothy June Clark, Dorothy Proctor, Barbara Rowland and Susanna Alexander.

Santa Barbara State Teachers' college closing brings Jeanne Leive, Alice Lamb and Katherine Robbins, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Mac O. Robbins, who has been having practice teaching in the Santa Maria schools.

Vacation will be welcomed by those at Stanford, among whom are Bill Jordan, Roberta Tuthill, Mary Wallace, Jeanette Klatt, Mariana Baxter Bill Good Jr., Malcolm Richards, Bill Hawkins, Arthur Nilsson, Jean Munro, George Munro who is taking past graduate work, Margaret Munro, a member of the all-star hockey team, and Don Kennedy, newly elected president of the freshman class.

Miss Barbara Rurup, in her junior year at Stanford, has no such happy anticipations for the holidays. She will not be home with her parents and sister, Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Rurup and Miss Louise Rurup, 1631 West Washington avenue, because injuries received in a motor accident in the football season, still keeps her in Palo Alto hospital. It will be recalled that Miss Rurup was just leaving the campus for the U. C. L. A.-Stanford game in Los Angeles, when the automobile was struck and demolished, and she was seriously injured. Her Santa Ana friends plan to brighten her hospital Christmas with cards and greetings.

Pomona students who are already home or soon will be are Winifred Ball, Robert McFadden, Letitia Morgan, Lucille Wolfe, Betty Hill, Norman Watson, Bill and Bob Spurgeon, Weston Sprague, Willard Stearns, Edgar and Bob Pan-

Parlor President Has Christmas Luncheon For Officers

Although it is an established custom among Native Daughters of this city, that the parlor president should entertain her officers at a holiday party, the custom has rarely had so pleasant a form as that of yesterday when Mrs. William Mize was hostess in her lovely West Seventeenth street home.

Ostensibly a luncheon, Mrs. Mize's plans were so elaborate that when guests sought places at the small lace-spread tables, it was to be served a Christmas dinner. A big 20-pound turkey formed the basis of this menu which included all the tempting dishes that such a feast requires. Tables flickered with slim tapers, the colors of silver and blue alternating in the group. Christmas-hued candies were arranged in artistic nuptials each guarded by a tiny glittering tree.

These table appointments were especially charming in combination with the Yule garlands and poinsettias throughout the home and the great tree that sparkled with lights and ornaments in a wide landscape window. To add the final touch, just at noon a florist delivered to the hostess, a great cluster of red roses, a gift of her sister-in-law, Mrs. Millie Galbraith.

When card table covers were substituted for the luncheon lace, the tables came into service for bridge play in which prizes were won by Mrs. Herbert Bray and Miss Gladys Edwards. This served to introduce the gift exchange for which Mrs. Paul Etzold played Santa Claus, denuding the tree of many of its array of packages each one present received a pretty present.

The officers joined to present their hostess-president with a complete set of pottery, to which Mrs. Florence Watson added a blue pottery bowl filled with home-made Christmas candies. It was arranged that the door prize should go to Mrs. Walter Hisey, who received a handsome over-night bag, completely fitted. Mrs. Hisey and her daughter, Eloise, depart tomorrow over the Santa Fe for Flint, Mich., there to take delivery on a car in which they will return to Santa Ana.

They will arrive in Michigan in time to spend Christmas Day with Mr. Hisey's cousins. Mrs. Hisey, past president of Native Daughters, has never been out of the state, so is anticipating her first eastern Christmas with snow, ice and all the traditional touches.

Mrs. Mize, who was assisted by two of the guests, her mother, Mrs. W. A. West and Mrs. Raymond Dixon, entertained also Mesdames Walter Hisey, Myrtle Ellis, Hazel Flaherty, Arthur Edwards, Elizabeth Marsile, Paul Etzold, Herbert Bray, Rose Ford, Alice Rogers, Estelle Dresser, Florence Watson, Matilda Lemon, Stella Gates, J. A. Gant and Miss Gladys Edwards.

Mr. Woodman visited his father, Joseph Woodman, in Garden Grove more than half a century ago, and is deeply impressed by the changes that have occurred in the intervening years. He is a man of 32 years of age, but his sunny philosophy seems to keep him young, and yesterday he and his grand-nephew, DeEstine Finn, spent the day deep-sea fishing from a large anchored several miles off shore at Newport.

From his visit here with his Santa Ana relatives, the Nebraskan will proceed next week to points in California to spend some time with other Southland friends and relatives.

Present for the affair with Miss Smothers were Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Clasen, brother and sister-in-law of the bridegroom-to-be, the Misses Marjorie Stevens of La Habra, Helen and Hazel De Shazo, Jessie Willis, Catharine Melton, Mrs. W. Stevens, Mrs. Smothers, the Messrs. Gerhart Clasen of Anaheim, Walter Schniepp of Orange, Lawrence Gubin, Bill Boyd, Beryl Smothers, brother of the bride-elect, and Edward Clasen, her fiancé.

Miss Smothers, who is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Smothers, is a graduate of Anaheim High school and Johnson's Business college. She is now employed as secretary in a stock and bond office in this city. Mr. Clasen is the son of Mr. and Mrs. William Clasen of Anaheim and graduated from Orange High school and Santa Ana Junior college. He is in business with his brother in Anaheim.

Present for the affair with Miss Smothers were Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Clasen, brother and sister-in-law of the bridegroom-to-be, the Misses Marjorie Stevens of La Habra, Helen and Hazel De Shazo, Jessie Willis, Catharine Melton, Mrs. W. Stevens, Mrs. Smothers, the Messrs. Gerhart Clasen of Anaheim, Walter Schniepp of Orange, Lawrence Gubin, Bill Boyd, Beryl Smothers, brother of the bride-elect, and Edward Clasen, her fiancé.

Motry Home is Scene Of Gay Yuletide Dinner Party

Affording a scene of gaiety and hospitality, the V. L. Motry home, 707 South Van Ness avenue, was setting last night for a holiday dinner party at which Mrs. Motry received a group with which she used to be affiliated for bridge play.

Christmas greenery and candles added their charm to the home, while the long table where guests were assembled for the 7 o'clock dinner, created a delightful Yuletide scene with its massed poinsettias ringed about with scarlet tap-ers.

In the living room where tables were placed for bridge, the tall Christmas tree with its twinkling lights and glittering ornaments, served as center of the gift exchange between the friends. In bridge play which followed, the hostess awarded her prizes to Mrs. Claude Sleeper, Mrs. Charles Adams and Mrs. Francis Edmonds, with the three special scores of the evening.

Mrs. Motry's hospitality was extended to Mesdames Charles Adams, Al Hall, Claude Sleeper, Frank Brigrante, Robert Weston, Don Hillyard, J. A. Miller, Francis Edmonds, Joseph Harless, A. P. Trautwick and Dean Campbell.

PHIL SMITH IN ROTARY SPEECH

ORANGE, Dec. 19.—Phil Smith of the National forestry service spoke to members of the Orange Rotary club yesterday on National parks showing slides of one of the most beautiful and scenic grounds, the Grand Teton area in Wyoming in the Jackson Hole country. Speaking of national parks in general Smith stated that well versed scientists are to be found in charge of national reserves, some of them ornithologists, botanists or geologists.

The Teton mountains are comparable with the Alps, said the speaker, as large in area and nearly as spectacular. One of the peaks had never been climbed until 1930. Rock formations are particularly interesting and there are still remnants of a number of glaciers.

Game in the reserve includes big horn sheep and antelope of elk one numbering 12,500 and the other 17,000. Work of saving these animals is directly traceable to the Isaac Walton league, said the speaker.

H. D. Nichols presided and G. W. Coltrane was program chairman. Fred McClung, of Huntington Park, past district governor, was a guest. Gifts were brought by members for use in welfare work by the Orange Community Welfare board.

General HUGH S. JOHNSON

NEW YORK CITY.—Can industry absorb the unemployed leaving no necessity for the Federal Government to make work for millions? This is one of our three most vital questions. But nobody can undertake to answer with anything more than a guess because nobody knows with any confidence the facts about employment, unemployment and opportunities for future employment. Our failure to get these facts about the worst human malady in the world is the heaviest charge that can be laid at the door of the New Deal.

The answer to the question is, of course, that industry theoretically can absorb most of those without jobs but in practice will probably never do so. England moving at forced draft industrial activity, still has a massive unemployment. The same thing is true of every industrial country in the world.

The best figures the government has now places the unemployed at 8,500,000. The several estimating agencies, like the American Federation of Labor, and the National Industrial Conference Board have differed widely in their guesses, but corrections now made in all of them tend to bring them into fair agreement in the ground between 8.5 and 9 millions. These are accounted for about as follows—on all federal projects about 3,000,000—on state, local and private relief about 1,500,000—not on any relief 4,500,000. The latest government estimates are that there are now employed in all fields about 43,000,000. In other words about 17 per cent of employables are jobless.

It is estimated that there were about 2,000,000 unemployed in 1929 at our peak of production. Since then, there has been a net annual addition to employable population of about 500,000 a year. Technological improvements since 1929 roughly enable nine men to do the work of ten. Taking these two additions to unemployment into consideration, the best government estimates are that it would require a 20 per cent increase in production over the 1929 rate, or a 45 per cent increase over the 1935 rate of production, to reduce unemployment to the low level of 1929. No such increase is within the range of the most robust present optimism. All this presupposes no change in the hours of work per week.

What are the prospects of industrial action on this problem? An improvement in business as measured by production to 1929 levels in the next year, is not impossible, and that could absorb 2,000,000 of the unemployed. It might do considerably better than that because the greatest gains may come in the construction and durable goods industries where the pool of unemployment is deepest. Giving consideration to that and other intangibles, there is a possibility of reducing the unemployed to 6,000,000 in the coming year. Beyond that this writer has heard no suggestion about what industry can do, unless it is willing to shorten the work week.

In June, 1933, government estimates showed the average work week in manufacture to be 42.6 hours—with longer hours in trade and other fields. The New Deal reduced this to 33.3 hours in September 1934, with at least as great a reduction in other fields—probably a 20 per cent reduction throughout. Estimates of the results of this were 2,750,000 new jobs. Hours in manufacture have been extended from 33.3 in 1934, to 39.4 in August 1935.

In other words, a reduction of 9.3 hours created almost 3,000,000 jobs on a much lower scale of production. There is no satisfactory way of estimating how many jobs were lost in all fields by the six hour extension but—just to grab a figure out of the air—say 2,000,000. In other words, if production climbs back to the 1929 rate and industry and trade go back to 1934 hours, we might cut our mass of jobless to 4,000,000. Somewhere around that figure seems the most we can expect business to do.

ATTRACTIVE RITES MARK WEDDING OF MISS FAYE STINSON

ORANGE, Dec. 19.—The wee Kirk of the Interior was the setting last night for the wedding of Miss Faye Stinson, talented daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Stinson, Taft avenue, and Milton Cole, son of the Rev. and Mrs. Walter B. Cole of Huntington Beach.

Rev. Mr. Cole, pastor of the Huntington Beach Methodist church, officiated at the ceremony. The church was filled with friends and relatives.

Scarlet poinsettias flamed in the softly lighted church, the Christmas flowers being the only decorations with the exception of the masses of ferns with which they were combined. Preceding the ceremony Miss Virginia Lee Harper sang "I Love You Truly" and "O Promise Me." The bride's father gave her in marriage.

The bride was very lovely in a white crepe chiffon gown made over white satin and something on long lines. For something she wore a beautiful strand of pearls, the property of Miss Belva McFadden, a fellow member of the faculty of Cummock Dramatic school of Los Angeles, the something old and blue was found in the turquoise set ring, a high school graduation gift. Her veil of tulle and lace was finger-tip length and her flowers an arm bouquet of white roses and lilies of the valley.

Mrs. Hale Dinsmore (Kathryn Cole) was matron of honor and Mr. Dinsmore was best man. Mrs. Dinsmore was in Alice-blue tulle and Miss Mary Irwin of Los Angeles was maid of honor, wearing rose taffeta. Both carried French bouquets in which pink and blue predominated. Julian Leerevain of Huntington Beach was groomsmen. Following the ceremony the young couple left for a honeymoon trip by motor and on their return they will establish their home in Los Angeles where Mr. Cole has a responsible position with a large manufacturing concern.

The bride is a graduate of the Orange Union High school, Santa Ana Junior college, attended U. S. C. for two years, later attending and graduating from Cummock Dramatic school in Los Angeles where she was teaching until the time of her marriage. Mr. Cole attended Orange Union High school and Davis Agricultural college.

HENRY PLOTNER HONORED ON 94TH ANNIVERSARY

ORANGE, Dec. 19.—Today Henry Plotner, South Grand street is still receiving callers and cards congratulating him on his reaching his 94th year. His birthday anniversary was observed Thursday. Friends called all that day as well until late in the evening. A turkey dinner at noon was served by Mrs. A. B. Post, his foster daughter.

Seated around the attractively appointed table were a group of old friends, Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Holmes of Ontario; Henry Holmes of Newport; Mrs. Post, Mrs. Lura Welch, Mr. and Mrs. Al Steeley, Mrs. Jessie Hargett and her daughter, Miss Jessie Mae Hargett; Miss Celeste Brown of Pott; Miss Celeste Brown of Pott; and Mrs. George Alsbach of Santa Ana.

The centerpiece was an arrangement of blue silver tinsel balls and red cranberries while a lovely silvered Christmas tree hung with blue ornaments furnished the decorations for the living room. Mr. Plotner is one of the few remaining members of the G. A. R. and among several birthday cakes was one sent by the Orange Woman's Relief corps. Another cake, baked by Mrs. Post, was decorated with flowers made from candied cherries with leaves of thinly sliced bits of citron. A third cake was presented to him by Mrs. Frank Wheeler.

The nonagenarian was born in Virginia, going with his parents to Kentucky, Mo. He was a young child and traveling with what he says was a "spike team," a popular hitch of three horses in those days. When he was a lad of 17, Mr. Plotner enlisted in the Union army and served for the duration of the Civil War, being mustered out at Little Rock, Ark., at the close of the conflict. He took part in one large battle, that of Prairie Grove.

His two oldest boys visited him a few years ago, coming from Kansas. The oldest boy, always a musician and a wanderer, he has not heard from for more than 20 years. His wife passed on in 1926. A farmer for many years in the east, Mr. Plotner engaged in the blacksmith business when arriving in Orange, chiefly because he was familiar with horses and mules. He was the seventh of a family of 10 children and he has a younger brother and sister living in Kansas.

Anyone can own a comfortable home if they will work and save as he has done, Mr. Plotner believes. His blacksmith shop was at the corner of Grand street and East Chapman avenue, where a filling station supplies the needs of motor vehicles as he once supplied the needs of horses and horse-drawn vehicles.

Plotner's father lived to be 87 and his mother 81. The only relic he has of the Civil War is a quarter which afterward was flattened on an anvil and cut in the shape of a star. He saw service in the 13th Kansas Infantry.

Dear Sirs: I cannot help giving you a compliment in saying how well you do your Laundry work; there is improvement every time I have sent it, and I tell a good many people about you.

I have sheets I have used for 20 years right along, and they never come back all torn up, like some laundries do. I have one spread 45 years old which you wash every two months anyway, and it is all whole.

I gave my daughter in Anaheim a half dozen sheets a year ago and in one year they were all torn up, some way I never saw before. It is pitiful in times like these to do such a thing. (Laundry). Sincerely, Mrs. (Name on request).

CHOIRS JOIN IN OFFERING YULE ANTHEMS

ORANGE, Dec. 19.—Tomorrow morning the combined choirs of the First Methodist Episcopal church will bring the message of the Savior's birth in song; two anthems will be offered, "Gloria in Excelsis Deo" by Gaul, and "Christmas" by Shellep. The latter anthem has a solo, duet obbligato and ladies quartet arrangement along with full chorus.

Rev. Arthur T. Hobson, pastor of the church, will bring the Christmas message "Christmas Stories." Choosing the Christmas theme as the base for a splendid offering of vesper music, the Adult choir of the First Methodist Episcopal church, assisted by a double quartet from the Young People's Chorus will be heard Sunday afternoon, December 20, at 5 o'clock in their annual Christmas vespers. F. Flaxington Harper's beautiful cantata, "The Star of Bethlehem" will be sung by a chorus of 35 voices. This cantata presents the prophecy, advent and annunciation of the coming of Christ; the words are taken from the Scripture and arranged into mixed and male chorus numbers; the trio will sing "Awake, O Jerusalem," and the final chorus, "Glory to God in the Highest," is a song of praise in the fulfillment of the prophecy. The entire cantata requires but forty-five minutes to sing.

The program, which is under the direction of Margaret Rowlands Harper, with Margaret M. Oekies as accompanist, will be augmented by a solo number, a double-quartet singing, acappella the carol "Silent Night," and will close with a short sermon by the Rev. Arthur T. Hobson.

Survivors include Mrs. White's parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. E. White, one son, Cedric White of Long Beach; one daughter, Miss Phyllis White of San Gabriel; one sister and one brother, Mrs. Wilbur Woods and Earl Wood of Orange, and two grandchildren. She was born in Cedarville, Calif.

Fifth grade mothers, with Mrs. Dayton Ditchey as chairman of the committee, had charge of the social hour. The tea table was cheery with tall red tapers, and tea was poured by Mrs. Glenn Rock and Mrs. Forest Weller.

COUSIN OF OLD PUDGE HEADS EAST'S FINE PREP CROP

PITTSBURGH, Dec. 18. Another Heffelfinger roams the gridirons, and the Yales had better get a move on for the current edition plans to matriculate at Ohio State next fall.

I were a Yale man I know what I'd think of the scouting system if anybody named Heffelfinger was permitted to escape, let alone a cousin of the immortal "Pudge," who enters college with a fair share of the ability of his illustrious relative who knocked the Harvard and Princeton into the bleacher seats 40 years ago.

Like old Pudge, Cliff Heffelfinger of Martins Ferry plays a great deal of guard. He was a star with one of the better Kiski-Kimmins Springs school squads the past season. Cliff Heffelfinger will never be the giant his cousin was, but he stands 5 feet 11 and weighs 172 pounds at 18, so will be plenty big enough in his sophomore year.

Dean Jim Marks rates this year's band of blockers and tacklers with the arrays of 1917, '22, and '21 as the best he ever coached at Kiski, which has a remarkable record for turning out boys who later become college captains.

Heffelfinger isn't the only Kiski lad who has decided on his college connection. There is cheering news from Saltsburg for Princeton, Michigan, Dartmouth, Navy, Columbia, Stanford, Pittsburgh and Manhattan.

Jack Meyer, an intelligent 190-pound quarterback of Elyria, O., and Phelan, center, are headed for Princeton. Meyer, a sweet blocker who can throw that football, is considered one of the most natural players ever to perform for Kiski.

Phelan is one of three lads from the Marlborough, Mass., high team, 1935 scholastic champion of New England. The others, Jack Cuddey, end and captain, and Messinger, right half, are going to Stanford and Dartmouth, respectively.

MICHIGAN LANDS STAR
Paul Kromer, Kiski's out-standing back, is to enroll at Michigan, where Harry Kipke can use him. Jesse Owens beat Kromer only one foot when the flying resident of Lorain, O., was only 16 years old. Kromer has done the century in 9.3. He did the punting and is a ball carrier from way back.

Lee, left end, has an appointment to the Naval Academy. Fritz, left tackle, will give Columbia's opponents Fitt.

Jim Daniels probably will follow his All-American brother, Averell, to Pittsburgh. Coaches of the Westmoreland county school claim Jim is a faster tackle than Averell. Manhattan draws Trunzo, left guard.

TROY TO OPEN WITH PACIFIC

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 18.—(UP)—College of the Pacific, coached by A. A. Staff, "the grand old man of football," will open the 1937 football season against the University of Southern California. It was announced today by Trojan officials.

A 10-game schedule will engage the Trojans with seven conference teams, Notre Dame and Ohio State from the midwest, and Stagg's team from Stockton. The Trojans travel for only three games—Notre Dame, Washington State and California.

Giving the opening game to Pacific ended a spirited rivalry among several coast colleges. Southern California won a 6 to 0 victory when the teams met for the first time two years ago.

SAINT 'BEES' WARM UP IN LAST PERIOD

Through the expedient of a brilliant last quarter spurt, Joe Koeber's Santa Ana "Bees" turned back Anaheim's middleweights, 39 to 27, in basketball at Anaheim yesterday.

Santa Ana held a scant 21-20 lead after three quarters despite an early 18 to 7 lead.

Bees' Anaheim forward was the high individual scorer of the contest with 14 points. O'Neill of Santa Ana was second with ten.

The summary:
Santa Ana (39) (27) Anaheim O'Neill (10) F..... (14) Beebe Duffell (9) F..... (2) Action Price (2) F..... (2) Johnson Webb (8) F..... (2) Montgomery Young (2) F..... (2) Koptak Substitutions: Santa Ana—Temmer (2), Dresser, Allen, Gaebe (2), Barrett, Trullio (2), Anaheim—Rimpun, Ortega (2), Star, Harrison (2), Stofle, Mendoza, Boege, Adams.

WASHINGTON SQUAD OFF FOR SOUTHLAND

SEATTLE, Dec. 18.—(UP)—Washington's Huskies, 35 strong, left today for Santa Barbara where they will go into final training for their Rose Bowl game with Pitt.

The squad will remain at Santa Barbara until three or four days before the game. Yesterday it went through the final workout on its home field.

Coach Jimmy Phelan said he will use the same lineup against Pitt that started against Washington State.

Slavin, Former Don, Named Aztec Captain

Ben Slavin, above, former all-conference end at Santa Ana junior college, and for two years an outstanding wingman on San Diego State college's newly crowned Southern California conference championship team, was elected honorary captain of the Aztecs at the annual team banquet this week.

The 180-pound end, who came from Michigan City, Ind., to star on the Santa Ana and San Diego teams, played both left and right wing positions for Coach Leo Calland's Aztecs, alternating at one spot with Joe Frame and at the other with Ed Smyth. All three were considered "regulars" in the manner in which they interchanged.

Slavin turned in particularly brilliant games against New Mexico State and in the final two games against Santa Barbara State and Whittier. In the Santa Barbara game he made the most spectacular pass catch of the season in the new Aztec bowl, making possible the touchdown that gave San Diego 9-8 victory. He also was appointed acting captain for the championship game with Whittier.

LEHR'S SERVICE TO PLAY BROKER TEAM

Pete Lehr's Gilmore Service nine plays the strong Colburn Brothers in a Southern California winter league baseball game at Orange tomorrow at 1:15 p. m.

Bob Drysdale, bespectacled Santa Ana gunner, will be on the hill for the Brokers, while Herman Hauck is scheduled to toil for Lehr's.

C.B.L. Papers Want Saints

WRITERS URGE INVITATION BE EXTENDED HERE

BY JAKE BOND
(Sports Editor Ontario Report)
ONTARIO, Dec. 18.—Since Eddie West, sports editor of the Santa Ana Register, came out with a strong article recommending Santa Ana's application for Citrus Belt league membership, every newspaper in the Citrus Belt league has commented favorably upon the suggestion.

It happened the writer noticed Brother West's column the morning after it was printed and The Report was the first newspaper published in the Citrus Belt league city to break the story. Since that happened two or three weeks ago, every sports writer in the circuit has commented favorably upon the possibility.

League Prexy Interested
Dave Melikjeff, of Pomona, is sold on the proposition as is also Wilbur Feigelman of Riverside. Bob Walton of San Bernardino thinks the Citrus Belt league will always be an athletic cripple as long as it is a five-team league.

E. W. Fischer, Chaffey principal and Citrus Belt league president, is very much interested in the possibility. He speaks highly of Santa Ana and thinks the school would make an excellent C. B. L. member provided some of the schools—Redlands and San Bernardino particularly—do not feel the distance too great.

Principal Fischer will doubtless note with interest that Sid Linder, Redlands sports writer, is likewise sold on the suggestion, though he has not talked to Redlands school executives when he commented. Linder raised the distance question but did not think the difficulty too great.

As far as Chaffey and Pomona are concerned, distance does not enter into the matter because it is little further to Santa Ana than to Redlands.

League Needs Member
The esteem and respect with which Santa Ana high school is held in the Citrus Belt league is a high compliment to that institution. The Saints certainly have the friends among the newspaper fraternity and they appear to stand solid with the schools as well.

The Citrus Belt league needs another member and while those farthest from Santa Ana are considering the distance, they might consider revenue, too.

The appearance of a Santa Ana football team as a league member on any C. B. L. gridiron would certainly guarantee a sufficient gate to take care of any traveling expenses any league school would have in going to Santa Ana that year and the next football season to boot.

If Santa Ana wants in it's up to the Saints to apply to the C. I. F. The C. I. F. will in turn turn the Citrus Belt league. Indications are that the league would approve such application and that the C. I. F. would in turn put Santa Ana in the league.

Baseball School For Recruits Of Red Sox Proposed

HAYS, Kan., Dec. 18.—(UP)—Eddie Collins, general manager of the Boston Red Sox today said scouts of his team may conduct a rookie school in co-operation with the San Diego club of the Pacific Coast league. Collins said a definite decision would be reached in a "few weeks."

Collins denied he had arranged to transfer Catcher Peacock or any other receiver to San Diego. He said Peacock's disposition depended on his showing in spring training.

Collins came here to attend the ordination of his son, Paul, into the Episcopalian clergy.

SANTA ANITA STARS FACE HUGHES' NINE

In its second start of the winter league season, the Santa Anita Stars meet Bob Hughes' strong Long Beach Elites at 2:15 p. m. here tomorrow.

Two Santa Ana high school boys—Joe Ortega and Joe O'Campo—have been signed by Santa Anita, which will have burlly Paul Holloway on the mound. Bill Thaton, Brea-Olinda pitcher, will be on first, while Bill Sweet, Tino Munoz, "Porky" Bell and McKinney in the lineup.

TILDEN PICKS VINES

NEW YORK, Dec. 18.—(UP)—Bill Tilden predicted today that Ellsworth Vines will defeat Fred Perry of England in their first professional match at Madison Square Garden Jan. 6.

Tilden, who has just returned from a tour of the far east with Vines, said: "Vines' speed and control will surprise Perry. I can't see how anyone can beat Vines the way he's playing."

Winter Sport Big Business Now

Indoors... view of ski jump illustrates how well Madison Square Garden brought winter sports to Broadway.

BY JIMMY DONAHUE
(NEA Service Sports Writer)

NEW YORK, Dec. 18.—Winter sports have become big business. Thousands now ride week-end special trains to snow fields and plan vacations in the north instead of trekking to southern resorts.

The real public appeal of skiing, ice skating, bobsledding, and tobogganing in this country began with New England carnivals.

Dartmouth College's famous carnival made its 30 years ago. It has branched out among universities far and wide.

Winter sports were given tremendous impetus by the Winter Olympics at Lake Placid in 1932, and, oddly enough, they benefited by the depression. During the darker days, eastern railroads hit upon the idea of running special trains into the Appalachian and Adirondacks, much the manner of summer week-end fishing excursions.

At first one train was sufficient to carry the few who made the trips. Soon trains began to add sections. Before the first season was concluded as many as 2000 were taking this means of getting in a few hours of the most zestful of sports. Since one line has made as many as six trips in a season and transported as many as 8000 into New Hampshire snows.

A ski train was held up 12 hours by the wreck of a freight train while en route to a Bear Mountain resort a couple of weeks ago. The train was made up of 20 cars and carried 1500 skiers, a good share to the resort.

INSTRUCTION EN ROUTE
Special cars are attached to New York ski trains this winter. They are operated as schools for novices. By the time trains arrive at their destinations, everybody aboard has sufficient knowledge to enjoy themselves. Otto Schneib, who coached championship teams at Dartmouth, has been engaged by one railroad.

Winter sports recreation, especially skiing, is by no means inexpensive. A good pair of skis costs

Hollywood 'Y' Cagers Defeat Wilson Service

In a wild, free-scoring basketball game, the Hollywood Y. M. C. A. quintet nosed out Wilson's Service, 56 to 50, at Hollywood last night.

Charles Denio, Wilson guard, tried his best to keep the Santa Anita team within striking distance of the Hollywood team. He collected 16 points for high point honors.

Clarence (Pete) Peterson, also had a field day, scoring 15 points to share runner-up scoring honors with Center Bentz of the winners. The score:

Hollywood (56) (50) Wilson's McNeil (4) F..... (8) McDonald Barnett (12) F..... (6) White Bentz (15) F..... (15) Peterson Brett (4) F..... (16) Denio Stark (6) F..... (2) Creech Substitutions: Hollywood—Garbe (6), Anthony (7), Beardsley (2), Wilson's—Sill (3), Vail.

Commissioners Oppose Transfer Of Titular Fight

NEW YORK, Dec. 18.—(UP)—The New York State Athletic commission vigorously opposed today the transfer of the Jimmy Braddock-Max Schmelling heavyweight championship fight to Berlin.

The commission pointed out that it had contracts for the fight to be held here and that, if necessary, a federal injunction could prevent Braddock from sailing for Germany.

The commissioners termed as a "fairy tale" the report that negotiations for a transfer had been started.

VIKINGS A GAIN SMOTHER DONS IN BASKETBALL

By DUNCAN CLARK
Mel Griffin's Long Beach Vikings had too much class for Blanchard Beatty's Santa Ana Jay-sees casabambers yesterday in the Long Beach Armory and the Dons were smothered under a 59-24 score. The Dons reserves finally got in the win column with a snappy 25-20 count.

The Vikings' co-captains, Dennis Sterling, forward, and Frank Belmer, guard, lead the attack for the Griffins with 15 and 9 points respectively. Center Slaughter collected 11.

Harry Stanley, southpaw Don center, made 7 and Ken Nissley collected three field goals for 6 points for second honors. Coach Beatty was not altogether satisfied with the performance of his club and was preparing a hard practice schedule during Christmas vacation. January 5 in the next game on the schedule when Vic Baden brings his Concordia club here from Orange.

Practice periods during the holidays: Dec. 21—3 to 5; Dec. 23—3 to 5; Dec. 25—7 to 9; Dec. 29—3 to 5; Dec. 30—7 to 9. All seasons will be held in Andrews gymnasium, Beatty said.

Ed Eastham, former Santa Ana prep star, has returned to the Don squad after several days' absence. In the game yesterday Ed showed some of his former class and should help things considerably. John Jenkinson, Ken Marshall and Bob Cunningham, the Williston, N. Dak., boys who were on the Don first string when they left to visit their parents over the holidays, also returned before the conference games.

The lineup:
Long Beach (59) (24) Santa Ana Long Beach (59) (24) Santa Ana Youd Fraser (6) F..... (12) Nissley Scott (4) F..... (7) Stanley Schmidt (2) F..... (5) Brownlie Belmer (9) F..... ## SUN VALLEY IDAHO ALPS

Wherever snow falls, resorts have profited by the winter sports boom. A railroad project at what has been christened Sun Valley in Idaho is the newest and one of the more elaborate of these. At this dreamland of the winter sport enthusiasts, which is to be opened on Christmas Day, you can ski stripped to the waist.

Snow slopes said to rival the finest in the Alps, ranging from gentle to daring, are sheltered from winter winds by the two-mile heights of the Sawtooth range. After a breath-taking two-mile downhill run, you can plunge in an outdoor swimming pool fed by natural hot springs. There even is sunbathing in roofless igloos built of ice blocks.

A million dollars was expended in Sun Lodge, an Alpine luxury hotel, in ski lifts that carry the skier to the heights quickly and comfortably, in the pool, toboggan slide, and skating rink.

Sun Valley is located near Ketchikan, between Pocatello and Boise, in central southern Idaho. Winter sports now are the thing from the Adirondacks to the Sierras and Siskiyou.

In winning, the Majestics held the "Gas House" to two field goals during the first half, while B. Mott and N. Paul ran up 16 points between them. In the second half, the Gas company came to life and held the Majestics to four field buckets, but granted six charity tosses, three of which they converted into scores.

Next Tuesday night the Scottie's Malt slingers clash with the Laguna Beach Artists at 7 o'clock.

The score:
Majestic Malt (27) (13) Gas Co. B. Mott (14) F..... (8) Lawrence Patterson (2) F..... (2) Season Davis (3) F..... (2) Vance Plank (1) F..... (1) Jamison Substitutions: Majestic—Malt's Meyers, N. Paul (8), Gas Company—Crosby, Lindsay.

PANTHERS PRACTICE AT SAN BERNARDINO

SAN BERNARDINO, Dec. 18.—(UP)—Coach Jack Sutherland and his Pittsburgh football squad took their first workout in California today as an initial step toward preparation for their meeting with Washington in the Rose Bowl.

The sleepy Panthers tumbled from Pullman cars at the San Bernardino station at an early hour. Through the darkness at the railroad depot came the strains of a brass band. Mayor C. T. Johnson of San Bernardino and about 50 or more enthusiastic Pitt supporters braved chilly early morning air to give welcome.

Coach Sutherland took his men immediately to the headquarters established in the Arrowhead Springs hotel in the foothills above San Bernardino. A brisk workout was held this afternoon.

Sutherland said his boys were determined to win the Rose Bowl game as retool to critics who scoffed when Washington selected the Panthers.

"This is the best team I ever brought to the Rose Bowl," said Sutherland.

JACOBS COMING TO DISCUSS LOUIS BOUT

NEW YORK, Dec. 18.—(UP)—Mike Jacobs, 20th Century club promoter, may fly to Hollywood Monday to look over the set-up for a proposed fight between Joe Louis and Maxie Rosenbloom Feb. 22.

C. B. L. PREXY 'FOR' SAINTS

Declaring himself sympathetic with Santa Ana high school which seeks to get out of the powerful Coast league, E. W. Fischer, Chaffey high school principal and Citrus Belt league president, says he's certain his league would receive any action Santa Ana might make for membership in a receptive attitude.

Unable to speak officially until the proposal is formally discussed, President Fischer said he realized what Santa Ana was up against.

He said he considered Santa Ana an ideal possible member of the league as far as size, scholarship and general fitness is concerned.

The only thing which would work to the disadvantage of Santa Ana's application, should such application be made, is the distance from Santa Ana to Redlands and San Bernardino. Distance means traveling expense and it is thought Redlands and San Bernardino might oppose taking in the Saints solely for this reason.

It has also been pointed out that distance from Redlands to Santa Ana—something like 55 miles—is nothing compared to the distance Coast league schools travel in getting to San Diego.

"In the event Santa Ana desires membership," said President Fischer, "the procedure would be for that school to apply to the C. I. F. The C. I. F. would sound out the Citrus Belt league and if the league favored Santa Ana as a member, the change would probably be made."

Campus politics, they tell me, will play a part in the forthcoming election for Santa Ana jaysee's 1937 football captain.

Not "Rusty" Roquet, I'm told, but Erwin Youel and Ed Stanley will captain the Dons. In other words, the college will have co-captains for the second time. The plan worked out well this year with John Lehnhardt and Allen Titenor functioning.

Construction of the new tennis courts at Santa Ana high school will not begin until spring, according to Principal Lynn Crawford. Contrary to earlier indications, there will be 12 instead of 10.

Comments The Generator, the school's weekly

"At least half of these should be under construction by May with the remainder being added as the necessary funds permit.

"Eight of the courts will be placed between the track, which is parallel to Parton street, and the cafeteria, which is located in back of the science building. These courts, covering approximately the same area that they now do, will be of the most modern type.

As to the number of lights for night playing to be installed, and the type of nets to be used, no information was divulged. Bids for the construction of the courts have not been settled.

The four remaining courts will be constructed where the tents now stand. Following the completion of the other courts, and the removal of the tents, these four courts will be built in the form of a rectangle paralleling Ross street.

"Pine street will be rebuilt so as to extend between the tennis courts and Block E, which is the new shop unit. At present, Pine is not a through street, since a majority of it was torn up in order that the new shop building might be constructed."

STEIN-LITTLE WOLF VICTOR GETS CHAMP

An Indian who war-whooped his way to the forefront in the wrestling ring with nothing but a new fangled wrinkle to an old Indian trick, and a series of flying tackles, makes his appearance at the Orange County Athletic club Monday night.

The red-skin is none other than Chief Little Wolf, 210-pound Navajo, who meets Sammy Stein, former All-American tackle, for the prior right to engage Champion Dean Detton in the same ring at a later date.

Stein proved he is one of the most dangerous heavyweights in the game when he easily scored over the Utah badman, bearded Brother Jonathan three weeks ago.

Jonathan meets the 345-pound Swedish giant, Tor Johnson, in the semi. Bob Coleman faces "Iron" Mike Works. Jack Montgomery opposes Ignacio Martinez.

SAINTS OUSTED BUT TUSTIN AND ORANGE VICTORS

Whatever else happens at Huntington Beach tonight, the Southern Counties high school basketball tournament is going to have a new Major division champion, Santa Ana's Saints, defending titlists, were eliminated yesterday by a powerful Whittier combination, one of the favorites. The score was 43 to 31.

Finals of the eighth annual invitational event begin at 6:30 with the minor division playoff. At 7:45 the intermediate series will be decided. The major division finals start at 9.

Tustin is favored to finish in front in the Minor division, while Orange and Anaheim both have possibilities to finish on top in the intermediate class. But Orange county quintets haven't mustered choice in the major group in which looms an all-Long Beach final between Long Beach Poly and Woodrow Wilson.

Saints Make Good Showing
Although defeated, Santa Ana nearly provided a major upset against Whittier. The Saints led for three periods and only Whittier's brilliant last period rally overtook them.

Bill Milligan, 200-pound forward, paced the Saints with 13 points. In the first period he caged seven field goals in rapid succession. Santa Ana led 13-9 after the first period and had a 21-12 advantage at halftime.

With Dedmon and Sepulveda coming to life in the third period, the Cardinals reduced the Saint lead to 27-25 at the three-quarter mark and in the final period moved out to win.

Coach "Pinky" Greene announces that the Saints will practice Dec. 28, 29 and 30. The Saints play Leuzinger at Inwoodwood Dec. 31 and at Redlands Jan. 2.

Orange, Tustin Win
In an intermediate division contest, Orange Panthers trounced Jordan of Long Beach, 25 to 12. Norman Burbridge led the Panthers with 10 points. Excelsior high school eliminated Newport Harbor's Tars, 39 to 21, in another intermediate division contest.

Tustin's titlers provided the major thriller by turning back Bonita, 35 to 16, in a Minor division game. The winner trailed, 8-8, after a slow first half, but with the Francis brothers, Sam and Paul, finding the target, the Tilters manufactured a commanding lead. Sam collected 21 points to lead the day's scoring parade.

The Farmers were to play San Juan Capistrano this afternoon. The winner moved into the finals at 5:30 against the Valencia-Chino survivor.

DRAMA OF AIR LANES OPENS HERE SUNDAY

"Without Orders" a romantic drama of the incidents that change the course of several lives, based on a Peter B. Kyne story, and "The Man I Married," a rollicking comedy romance, are the two features scheduled for the screen of Walker's new theater, Third and Bush streets, Sunday, Monday and Tuesday.

The rivalry between two transport pilots, including their personal battle for the affections of a pretty air hostess, form the theme of "Without Orders." Sally Eilers and Robert Armstrong are the principal players. One of the pilots is the son of the owner of the line and has had a sensational career as a stunt flier. This role is played by Vinton Howard, a newcomer to the screen from the radio field. The picture is set in the rugged country of the Northwest.

Doris Nolan, the new screen sensation, formerly a Broadway stage star, has the leading role in "The Man I Married." This story concerns the humorous adventures of a lovely girl who runs away from one wedding to get entangled in a romance with a man who resents the idea that women should shape his destiny. Michael Whalen is the leading man. Chic Sale, Skeets Gallagher and Cliff Edwards help the merriest along, and the cast also includes Nigel Bruce and Marjorie Gateson.

"The March of Time" and a newswreel complete the bill.

Modern Poets

By MISS BEULAH MAY

MARY by Leta Morse Eddy, Lantern Press—Coming just at the holiday season is this book of poems, the third of a trilogy which includes EVE and SARAH. The life, the thoughts and dreams of the mother of Christ are told in a series of poems beautiful in their simplicity, beginning with a lyric on Mary in the spring.

"With tall winds clearly blowing, The farmer at his sowing, And root and branches growing, Life is on the wing."

The best poem is the long one, Nazareth, and the home of Mary and Joseph.

"A little whitewashed town among the hills

Like crested billows struck to marble there, With terraced streets set crosswise of the slopes, Fountain and synagogue and village square."

"A shut-in kitchen garden fills the air

With spice of rose and sweet and bitter herbs, There is a grove here in which she spins

And never human polygot disturbs,

Though daily such pass Joseph's shop in front:

Egyptian, Arab, nomad Saraceni, And, fortune favoring, one sees above

The rest, great-framed, red-headed fishermen.

"Now presently they touch the metal box

That holds the sacred writing on the door And follow Joseph to the inner room

As night's long shadows fall upon the floor,

There Mary lights the hanging lamp, brings food

And wine, or sits attentive in her chair

While the young visitors converse . . ."

And so the beautiful simple verse goes on to the tragic end where we

"Find Mary then in that famed upper room

Where the disciples of her son return From Olivet, replenishing her thought

With precious words He spoke all hate to doom;

And feed with her the mother spirit burn

To know and understand the love He taught."

"Find Mary then in that famed upper room

With precious words He spoke all hate to doom;

And feed with her the mother spirit burn

To know and understand the love He taught."

"WINTERSET" OPENS SUNDAY AT BROADWAY

A mature, purposeful drama, frankly outspoken in its argument, courageous in its conclusions and zealously played by a superb cast is "Winterset," heralded as one of the greatest pictures of the year and which has been signed by Manager Lester J. Fountain to open at the Fox Broadway theater tomorrow.

"Winterset" is an outcry against injustice and mob hysteria. It deals with the conviction of Bartolomeo Vanzetti, the New England fish peddler, poet, dreamer and liberal, who, with Nicola Sacco, his cobbler associate, died in 1927 for the murder of a shoe factory paymaster.

The "Winterset" of the cinema leaves no doubt of the innocence of its Bartolomeo Romagna. With a few sure strokes Alfred Santelli's camera paints in the background that necessitated so much oral explanation in the stage play. Romagna's automobile, containing his fearless writings on labor, is stolen by Trock Estrella, Shadow and Garth Eddras, a murder committed, the car abandoned and found. Swiftly the camera follows the serene, sensitive Romagna of John Carradine ("he is Christ on the way to the crucifixion," says the script) through the highlights of the murder trial.

"You will send me to my death, Mr. Judge, and should be sorry for me. But really it is me who is sorry for you. For I shall sleep. But you—you will not sleep. In the dark night I will be before you and you will know you have done wrong. You will be afraid. But me, I am not afraid. It is not me who goes to death, Mr. Judge. It is you. A living, walking death, with my face, my voice, following you everywhere. And I am sorry for you."

Thus the cinema sets its stage or the drama to follow. It is the changed ending that may cause controversy over the screen "Winterset." But there can be no doubt of the feeling of triumph imparted by the cinema's climax.

SHIRLEY TEMPLE HERE CHRISTMAS AT FOX BROADWAY

Romantic as the radiant Chinese moon, and as glamorous with its surrounding company of great stars, teeming with danger, excitement, thrills, war-lord bandits, and Shirley Temple as a little waltz who talks and sings Chinese, "Stowaway," comes to the Fox Broadway theater next Wednesday for the holiday program.

Yes, Shirley's in China now, and you'd think you'd never seen her before, so different is the setting, so surprising the story. As Ching-Chang, the adopted daughter of a missionary couple killed in a rebel raid, Shirley is picked up by Robert Young, a carefree young millionaire who is touring the world in a vain attempt to get away from himself. Shirley, accidentally stowing away in Young's car on a cruise ship, is instrumental in his meeting Alice Faye, pretty fiancée of stuffy young Allan Lane.

While waiting for Allan to join her at Hongkong, Alice tours the town with Young and his little protegee, all of them having a gorgeous lark, which culminates in Shirley's winning a prize in a Chinese amateur show, singing in the native tongue.

Allan then appears to claim his bride-to-be, but they part in a fierce quarrel. Meanwhile Young is told by Chinese authorities that he cannot adopt Shirley, being unmarried, and must put her in a local orphanage. Determined not to part from her, he proposes to Alice that she become his wife in name only, then proceed to Reno for a divorce. This she does, but Young, realizing he is really in love with her, follows her to Reno and, with Shirley's artful aid, wins her consent to stay married.

Shirley's strong supporting cast includes, in addition to Robert Young and Alice Faye, Eugene Pallette, Helen Westley, Arthur Treacher, J. Edward Bromberg and Astrid Allwyn.

ATTRACTIONS AT LOCAL THEATERS

Marsha Hunt and John Howard, who are co-starred in "Easy to Take," which opens at the Fox West Coast theater on Tuesday. The couple is shown above in a scene from the film.

One of the outstanding pictures of the year is "Winterset" which opens at the Fox Broadway theater tomorrow. Herewith is a scene from the film showing Margo and Burgess Meredith.

Coming Attractions

FOX BROADWAY

Pitting Boris Karloff against Warner Oland and spotting both in what probably is the best Chan story to date is what happens in "Charlie Chan at the Opera," which has been booked by Manager Lester J. Fountain for the Fox Broadway theater next Wednesday.

The film is a pleasing combination of such elements that are sure to thrill. It introduces many unique features that engage and hold the attention of the audience. Well-built suspense, together with the convincing work of Oland and Karloff which spurred the support to give high quality performances, gives the film a punchy tone.

As practically all the action occurs during the presentation of a grand opera performance, the terroristic machinations of Karloff, a jealous maniac, who is threatening death to Margaret Irving, his philandering wife, baffle the police who call on Oland for aid. Then, to the tune of strongly dramatic situations involving several members of the opera cast, with the tragic elements contrasted by tension-easing comedy and youthful romance, it becomes a match of Oland versus Karloff. A murder or two adds to the mystery content in which Oland is called upon to display all his remarkable sleuthing talents to forestall the menace of Karloff and prove to the police who the real killer is.

Departing noticeably from the Earl Derr Biggers theme, Bess Meredith's original story was made to order for Oland and Karloff. In adopting it Scott Darling and Charles Belden, wisely keeping the leads in mind, concocted situations and dialogue into which they could sink their teeth. They likewise made sure that good parts were included for Keye Luke, Charlotte Henry, Thomas Beck, Margaret Irving, Gregory Gaye, Nedda Hargigan and William Demarest.

FOX WEST COAST

For Christmas Day Manager Lester J. Fountain has booked two outstanding pictures for the Fox West Coast theater. The program will open on Tuesday and run through next Saturday.

"Easy to Take" with Marsha Hunt, John Howard and Eugene Pallette and "Tarzan Escapes" with Johnny Weissmuller and Maureen O'Sullivan are the two pictures booked for the holiday.

The premise of "Easy to Take" is: An eccentric, wealthy spinster provides in her will that John Howard, the conductor of a children's radio hour, shall be appointed guardian and administer the estate left to Douglas Scott, her young nephew. Howard later finds the situation for publicity purposes which splits the developing romance between Howard and Miss Hunt until the finish.

In "Tarzan Escapes" Benita Hume and William Henry enter the jungle guided by John Buckley to find Maureen O'Sullivan, who lives there with "Tarzan" Weissmuller, their purpose being to bring Miss O'Sullivan back to London to Sally Eilers as air hostess and Robert Armstrong as pilot, are the stars of "Without Orders," thrilling and romantic drama of the airways, which plays at Walker's new theater Sunday, Monday and Tuesday.

Randolph Scott, Frances Drake, Terry Walker and Tom Brown, pictured here, have leading roles in the thrilling and dramatic "And Sudden Death," which opens at the State tomorrow for a two-day engagement.

Inherit an estate, Miss O'Sullivan, promising to return, starts out, but Buckler sells out the party, his object being to capture "Tarzan" alive and dispose of the others to cannibalistic natives. His plans go wrong when the cannibals refuse to carry out their part of the bargain and the expedition is dramatically saved by Weissmuller, who sends Buckler to his doom at the finish.

The screenplay by Cyril Hume and the direction of Richard Thorpe make the exaggerated incidents believable.

WALKER'S

"Everything Is Thunder," the thrilling story of an English officer's escape from a German prison camp, and "Rose Bowl," a deeply interesting football picture, are the attractions for next Wednesday and Thursday only at Walker's new theater, Third and Bush streets.

Constance Bennett and Douglas Montgomery have the leads in the prison escape story, which is a first run film, and which is said to be full of suspense and thrills.

"Rose Bowl" is a breezy tale of campus love and gridiron achievement. Featured players are Eleanor Whitney, Tom Brown, Larry Crabbe, Benny Baker and William Frawley. The program also includes a color cartoon.

Special program with change of features has been arranged to start Christmas day, with continuous shows beginning at 1 p. m. The pictures are "Ladies in Love" with Janet Gaynor, Loretta Young, Constance Bennett and Simone Simon, and "All-American Chump," with Stuart Erwin and Betty Furness.

SENSATIONAL BEERY PLEASURES PRODUCTION AT STATE SUNDAY AS 'OLD HUTCH' AT WEST COAST

One of the screen's most sensational and thrilling productions, "And Sudden Death," tops the bill at the State theater Sunday and Monday.

This story, which stars Randolph Scott as a police official who is leading a fight against highway killings, and Frances Drake as the speed-loving, irresponsible daughter of a wealthy citizen, is based on the article which aroused such interest when it appeared in the Readers Digest several months ago.

Speed and breath-taking crashes starring Ross Alexander and Beverly Roberts, is the second feature. It concerns a stock-selling scheme based on a gasoline substitute invention. Supporting players are Joseph Cawthorn and Paul Graetz. The program includes a short subject.

JIMMY FIDLER IN HOLLYWOOD

HOLLYWOOD, Dec. 19. — Idle chatter: Alice Brady has the colony's most penetrating voice; it can be heard through sound-proof walls. Nutshell description of Marlene Dietrich: Lascivious. Attention, chap who is begging Louise Rainer to marry him: She has learned to play church hymns on the clarinet. Is it because her name is so much like Garbo that the public quickly accepted the one name of Margo? Before she starts a tap dance, Eleanor Powell "rip-ple" her leg muscles to limberness. Name with chilly sound: Claude Rains. How audiences giggled at the "My Man Godfrey" sequence in which Carole Lombard said to William Powell (her real life ex-), "You would make a fine husband" and "I would make a good wife."

The reason Glenda Farrell slints her 14-year-old son to one dollar a week allowance: She thinks too much money spoils kids. Add perennial youngins: Edmund Lowe. Critic's comment I never expect to read: "W. S. Van Dyke's direction is 'bad.'" Hollywood's new word describing drunkenness is "looping." Shirley Temple's vocabulary includes 2200 English words, 600 French, and 200 Chinese (normal adults average 2600 words, including "Chee! This is a lousy picture!") Candidate for trimmest figure: Eleanor Whitney, and she clothes it alluringly. Most-grateful-for-helping-hands in his comeback fight: Jack Mullan.

I refused to credit this story until household servants verified it. The Basil Rathbone uses two cars when they go motoring. The reason is, Mrs. Rathbone likes to race ahead at sixty or more miles per hour. Basil prefers to snail along at thirty. They get on each other's nerves to such extent that, unless necessity bars, they travel separately.

On their recent automobile tour to Canada they followed the usual two-car procedure. It was an impatient trip for the actor's wife, who constantly reached towns hours ahead of Basil, only to await his arrival. A sort of tortoise-and-hare race, but with a different end.

Mrs. Rathbone returned to Hollywood first, victor by two days over her husband.

A newly-signed juvenile whose name I will conceal with the hope that he will soon recover from his foolish conceit, was complaining on a set the other day about the pictures studio cameramen were taking of him. "I've been an amateur photographer for seventeen years," he sneered, "and there's not a lens buy on the lot can snap a better picture than I." The company cameraman, lurking in the background, set the company in an uproar. "Yeah? And there's not a photographer on the lot who can't do a better job of acting."

"Show Boat" the famous Jerome Kern musical show, with Irene Dunne and Allan Jones in the leads, supported by an exceptionally able cast, is the current attraction at Walker's theater. It will be seen for the last time tonight, together with "The Girl on the Front Page," a romantic drama starring Edmund Lowe and Gloria Stuart.

The State offers for the last times tonight Buck Jones in "White Eagle," a story of the days of the Pony Express; "Blue Blazes" a Buster Keaton comedy; a cartoon, a news reel and a chapter of "Custer's Last Stand."

SANTA ANA, CALIFORNIA, SATURDAY, DECEMBER 19, 1936

Ebell Board Plans Dance For Holidays

Busy as they are with their individual plans for Christmas, Ebell society board members already are looking ahead to Tuesday, December 29, when they will stage an annual courtesy dance for young people of Ebell club members.

Sons and daughters home from college — granddaughters and grandsons enjoying vacations from their studies in Santa Ana and neighboring communities—all will be brought together for the post-Christmas event.

Ebell clubhouse will be setting for the 9 o'clock affair, for which the peacock room will be decked in holiday attire. Mrs. R. C. Holles, as general chairman of the party, will be assisted by Mesdames F. E. Farnsworth, J. L. Clark and Ralph Smedley on her committee.

Although there will be no charge for admittance, those eligible to attend the affair must secure their tickets from Mrs. E. D. White, Mrs. Holles or Mrs. F. C. Rowland, Ebell society president.

Ebell young people having house-guests for the holidays are advised to make reservations for their guests as well.

Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Smith's home, 1717 North Broadway, was opened for a Christmas meeting at which Mrs. Smith's sister, Miss Preble Drake was hostess to members of Ebell Third Travel section yesterday afternoon.

Mrs. T. R. Trawick, Miss Ida May and Miss Blanche Collins formed a hostess committee with Miss Drake. They were assisted in receiving guests and in other pleasant duties by Mrs. Smith and her daughter, Mrs. Calvin Flint.

Little Miss Ginger Germaine of the Getty studios opened the program with dances. Miss Helen Marshall, accompanied by Margaret Davies, sang "Russian Sleigh Song," "Spanish Christmas Song" and "Cossack Love Song."

Russian tea and cakes were served at the close of the afternoon, with Mrs. S. A. Moore, section leader, pouring tea. Poinsettias and red tapers brightened the prettily laden table.

The next meeting will be held January 23 in the clubhouse, with Mrs. F. P. Nickey as chairman. Luncheon to be served at 12:30 o'clock.

Wait A Minute

What better season for visiting our mental picture galleries, could be wished than Christmas, the greatest day in the world? But interesting as are portraits on memory's walls, there are many actual ones in Santa Ana homes that are quite as fascinating.

Some of these are ancestral, others are of the present generation—ancestors of tomorrow. . . . Always a prominent place is given in the William E. Otis home to that fine portrait of Elsie (Mrs. Alan) Revell, daughter of Mrs. Otis. It is the work of the late Elizabeth Gowdy Baker, famous New York aquarellist, whose sister, Joella, was for many years a prominent high school teacher here.

Interest of guests in the home of Eva and George (Nirrod) Briggs is always attracted to the portrait of Daughter Janet (Metallurgist) Briggs, the work of an artist of European fame. . . . The portrait by the way, is not in high favor with Dotter Janet. . . . Even younger in the present generation of those immortalized in portraiture, is small Moya King, the elder of Mary and Lloyd King's two little maids. "The King's Daughter" is the striking title given this beautiful study by the artist, the late Alice Underwood Fitch celebrated in European art circles, and yet living so quietly in Santa Ana that few even guessed her attainments or fame until her passing.

Ancestral in tone are many other family portraits. . . . There is the charmingly be-curl'd and pantaletted small belle of the old South gracing the home of Helen Louise and Harry (Sen-Elect) Westover. It is a portrait of the childhood of Augusta Sykes, grandmother of Helen Louise. . . . Prominent on the chimney breast of the home of Cora and Terry (Geo. Treas.) Stephenson is the study in oils of John Trifery, a collateral ancestor of Mrs. Co. Treas. Stephenson. . . . Of an ancestor again is the ivory miniature of the girlhood of Phoebe Mendenhall, in the home of her great-granddaughter, Eleanor (Register) Elliott. . . . Just a few of the pictures gracing our galleries. . . . Equally lovely pictures form the civic scene at present. . . . North Broadway park, a fairylane of gardens and windows a-twinkle with lights and stars. . . . Ebell clubhouse, where twin Christmas trees shimmer with ice blue lights and baubles. . . . The Country club with fireplace banked with mystic gray of smoke tree branches amidst which red lights glow. . . . As for Christmas carolers, the noontide recital and that of 7 o'clock each evening, keep alive that spirit of the season's power. . . . Have you heard the Girl Reserves? They will journey all over the city tomorrow in a big truck.

Ruth and Harold (Orchestra) Boyce having a grand time decorating the tree for their two cunning children—so blonde as Mama Ruth. . . . Veneta and Ted (Service Station) Davis ditting for Son Monte. . . . Dorothy (Teacher) Jessee joining the melee of last minute shoppers. . . . Octa (Mrs. Charles) Cozart dieting for a cold and breaking over for apple pie and hot chocolate with Dotter Eleanor (Girls' Ebell). . . . Virgil (Bookstore) Reed striving to work—and does he cover the ground!

—Betty (Mrs. Godfrey) Spelch dashing around in the rain, quite swift in her coat. . . . John K. (Adv. Man.) Evans gone Bond street in his derby hat. . . . Irene (Nurse) O'Brien stitching away on trossau dainties in readiness for Lohengrinning early in the new year. . . . Lucky man!

Maybe it is Christmas to you, but to Mabel (Rankins) Cole it is time to plan for Easter, so she has been in L. A. this week to choose Easter bunnies for Easter bell(e)s. . . . Didja see Walter (Well Contractor) Hill tickled pink with the modern version of a Jack-in-the-box he got at the Comus club dance? . . . Frank (Postmaster) Harwood is a man of excellent taste and judgment. Didja ever see a more charming blonde wife than Vivian? . . . Remember the Com. Play "Judgment Day"? Well, Marlon (Teacher and Subwell Actress) Bruner almost wrecked one night's puffawance by snatching a little nap at home—and not waking until 8:20 o'clock! . . . and Mary (Musicalian, Ditty and Mrs. Leslie) Stephenson ran out of gas on her way one night, and wasn't permitted to use the telephone at a house where she stopped, necessitating a walk that made her late too!

Home Town Gal making good in big city Ollimae Enlow (Violin and Mrs. Harry) Matthews is having a spiffy time in Los Angeles, affiliated again with the Cecilian Players, attending U. S. C. with Elizabeth (Violin) Wright, and playing around with the Junior Leaguers. . . . Ella (Mrs. John E.) Gowen now gaining rapidly in health since X-ray disclosed the fact that she was suffering from four broken ribs. She has been wound so tightly with surgeon's gauze she can scarcely indulge that sparkling wit of hers. . . . If you think Lella (Mrs. H. T.) Jones can't make luscious mince meat, you should taste that which she brought to the Reg. Soc. Room for Thanksgiving—but which we're saving for Christmas. . . . Wonder how Gus (Jaycee Yell Leader) Gilbert and Harris (Jaycee Gaudin) Warren are making out over in Honolulu where grass skirts and hula dancers don't rate so high in comparison with the

Rites Occur In Methodist Bride Chapel

Plighting their troth at one of the prettiest ceremonies of the pre-Christmas season, Miss Elsiebell Hurd, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles H. Hurd, 1326 French street and James L. Portlock of Long Beach, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Portlock of Pueblo, Colo., exchanged vows last night in First Methodist Bride Chapel.

Making their entrance from the back of the auditorium, the betrothed couple were preceded to the altar by a little group of attendants. Eight o'clock was the hour for the ceremony, at which Dr. George A. Warner officiated.

Arthur Jacques, pianist for the event, played Chopin Waltzes and accompanied Marquis Hare in vocal solos, "Ah Sweet Mystery of Life" and "At Dawning." The Bridal Chorus from Lohengrin and Mendelssohn's Wedding March were played as processional and recessional.

A large white heart with swaying wedding bell outlined decorations at the altar, where gladioluses in rose tones were arranged against a background of palms. Cathedral tapers provided a soft light for the ceremony.

In Bridal Attire
Hand made Mexican mantilla lace formed the veil cap and train for Miss Hurd's costume, which was of heavy ivory satin. Loaned for the occasion by Mrs. Colby McKinney (Eva Deane Caskey) the filmy veil served as the "something old." Other traditions were observed, as the bride carried a blue chiffon handkerchief belonging to her close friend, Mrs. Furr Underwood. The same dainty kerchief has been borrowed from Mrs. Underwood by several brides during the past two years. White carnations, sweet peas and bouvardia formed Miss Hurd's shower bouquet.

The bride's sister-in-law, Mrs. Orville E. Hurd, was matron of honor, gowned in tea-rose satin and carried vari-colored sweet peas. The bridegroom's sister, Mrs. W. W. Cawfield of Avondale, Colo., and the bride's sister-in-law, Mrs. Nylin P. Hurd, were charming attendants in their arbor green satin frocks. Their bouquets were of multi-colored sweet peas.

The bride's brother, Everett Hurd was best man. Ushers were Lester Dodson and Beryl Barker of Long Beach, close friends of the bridegroom. Completing the party was the little flower girl, the wedding maid, Miss Nancy Hurd, wearing pale blue flowered taffeta with pink sweet peas.

Yule Party Of Comus Members Is Gala Event

As happy with their dolls, their jumping jacks, toy automobiles and similar gifts as back in days of childhood, Comus club members gave full reign to Christmas gaudy Thursday night when they dined in Orange Women's clubhouse as guests of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Chapman, Mr. and Mrs. James Dickson, Rod Brastad, and his sister, Miss Norma Brastad, and Mr. and Mrs. George Chapman.

The gay colors and twinkling lights of the clubhouse heightened the gala spirit that prevailed, as did the two shining Christmas trees at opposite ends of the ballroom floor. One was in glowing blue and white and the other was a graceful silver-tipped fir, branches of each awayed low with their burdens of gifts, and a grand promenade with a touch of the formality of the old cotillion, led laughing lines past the two trees, to receive the holiday fruit. It may be imagined how much merriment the gifts added to the remainder of the evening's dancing to the intriguing melodies provided by Lacey Swaine's orchestra.

This was, as the holiday dance seems always to be, an event distinguished by pretty frocks worn by the feminine guests. But none was lovelier in appearance than the four of the hostess group. Miss Brastad chose a demure black taffeta of graceful lines; Mrs. George Chapman's duobenet velvet was quite as becoming; Mrs. Dickson was the very spirit of the season in a modish red taffeta, and Mrs. Raymond Chapman suggested winter snows with her swirling draperies of white chiffon frosted with the sparkle of rhinestones.

It was a well attended party, although it was one of the club events for members alone. Prominent among the dancers were those who had met with Mr. and Mrs. Hasi Shifflett, 1722 Greenleaf street, to continue to the party scene in one lively group of thirty or more.

Members Exchange Gifts at Annual Event
Once again Logion Auxiliary drill team members have held an annual Christmas party, this year's affair taking place last night in the hospitable home of Mr. and Mrs. Russell Hardcastle, Eighth and Bush streets.

Through an exchange of gifts, members learned the identity of their mystery sisters. At the close of an informal evening, Mrs. Hardcastle invited her guests to the dining room, where all was in readiness for the serving of frozen fruit salad, sandwiches and coffee. Set with white pottery, the table was lovely with its poinsettia centerpiece lighted with red tapers.

On the committee with Mrs. Hardcastle were Mrs. Emma Penn, Mrs. Ruth Anderson and Mrs. Alta Marsale. Others present were Pearl Christensen, Alice Dodder, Inez Haiber, Ruth Jellis, Ida McCarty, Roberta Mercer, Fay Minnix, Lucille Sullivan, Myrtle Swarthout, Gladys Young, Sue Featherly, Zola Maag, Margaret Huriburt, Irene Pearce, Grace Sisson.

You and Your Friends
Miss Marian Lichtwardt, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Hartman Lichtwardt, of Hamadan, Iran, was expected to arrive this afternoon to spend part of the Christmas holidays with Mr. and Mrs. Harry Harlow, 1920 North Ross street. Mich Lichtwardt's parents are on the mission field in Hamadan.

SOCIETY AND CLUBS WOMEN'S ACTIVITIES

Luncheon, Program And Gifts Are Enjoyed By Past Matrons

No happier form of the all-permeating Christmas spirit has been shown than that of Thursday's holiday luncheon of Hermosa Past Matrons' association, whose members received genial greeting in Masonic temple from a hostess quartet composed of Mesdames Blanche Hansen, W.D. Barker, C. D. Benight and Theo. A. Winbiger.

Everyone exclaimed over the beauty of the table spread for luncheon in the banquet room, glittering with scarlet and green candles, tiny trees prettily decorated, mirror lakes lively with skating figures, and Santa Claus speeding his reindeer along with a sleigh full of packages.

Seeking the lounge for the afternoon session, members found a modernistic Christmas tree fashioned from cellophane and sprinkled with scarlet balls. Mrs. Charles Mitchell presided over the meeting, during which Miss Henrietta Bohling was admitted to the Past Matrons' ranks, and Mrs. W. G. Lewis was cordially invited to be honor guest throughout the year. Equal cordiality marked the greetings to Mrs. O. E. Robbins, former member of the association, and to Miss Pauline Reinhaus, who has been absent from so many meetings because of illness.

Mrs. S. A. Moore led devotions, and Mrs. H. T. Trueblood was asked to preside over the entertainment period. A talented young musician, George Honore, played the accordion, including "Silent Night" and a spirited dance number, and Mrs. Emmett Elliott gave a Christmas reading.

The sound of a postman's whistle caught everyone's attention, preparing the way for entry of one of the familiar blue uniformed carriers with bulging mailbag. It was Mrs. Mitchell playing the role, and delivering to each one present, a pretty Christmas package in the general gift exchange.

Past Matrons present included with the newly admitted member, Miss Bohling, Miss Martha Whitson, Miss Pauline Reinhaus, D. Ada K. Henry and Mesdames W. A. Atkinson, W. D. Barker, C. D. Benight, J. C. Red and silver formed an effective color motif for holiday appointments in the home of Mr. and Mrs. F. J. Herschler, 1815 North Flower street last night for an annual club party at which husbands of members were complimented.

Red carnations floating in crystal bowls centered tables where covered-dish dinner was served early in the evening. A large Christmas tree in the background added to an appropriate setting. Tallies in red and silver were distributed for bridge play in which Mrs. James Workman and Don Park held the two highest scores.

N. W. Lindsey, who receives greetings from all over the United States every year when he observes his birthday, was honored at a city-wide affair yesterday in El Dorado. ## Players' Monthly Barn Program Follows Holiday Theme

Echoes of the success of Santa Ana Community Players' latest production, "Judgment Day" were mingled with the joyous festivity of the Yuletide Thursday night when the Players held their monthly program in the Barn.

A letter commending the thespians on presentation of so finished a production as last week's play had been sent to the group by Dr. John Brown Mason of federal forum fame. This was read by President Harry Hanson to the large audience assembled.

Opening the program itself were vocal solos by Marian Graef, accompanied by his sister, Pauline Graef Rhodes. Their numbers included "My Lover Is a Fisherman" (Surreyland), "Della" from "The Merry Widow," a traditional Chinese lullaby and as an encore, "Japanese Love Song." The latter selection was sung in Japanese. Colorful Oriental costumes were worn by the two artists.

Mrs. Robert Horn, whose readings have proven such a delight to the group, Thursday night read "Fezziwig's Ball" from the well known story. Her encore was a reading of a letter which Charles Dana, as editor of the New York Sun in 1897, had written in response to a little girl's question, "Is There Really a Santa Claus?"

Herbert Bickel sang "Cantique de Noel" and "Jesus Bambino," accompanied by Mrs. Leslie Stefensen, who also was at the piano for group singing of Christmas carols led by Miss Myrtle Martin.

Refreshments of Christmas cookies and wassail were served by a hostess committee headed by Mrs. Stefensen. Her assistants were Mrs. C. W. Hyde Jr., Mrs. Emmett Elliott and Miss Martin.

Legion Groups Join In Holding Christmas Celebration

Holiday festivity prevailed Thursday night in Veterans hall, where 150 members of Legion post and auxiliary assembled for an annual dinner party which auxiliary members had planned as a feature of a regular meeting.

Mrs. Harry Pickard had arranged table decorations of silverware and blue tapers. Mrs. S. C. Hill had prepared the delicious dinner, which was served to the accompaniment of orchestra music.

Mrs. Robert Sandon, auxiliary president, conducted a short business meeting, after which party features were enjoyed. Dancing and cards formed the program. Gifts were exchanged.

The dinner party took the place of a regular meeting for Legion post members, who will not convene next week at the usual time.

Y. L. I. and Knights Join in Birthday Celebration

Capistrano Y. L. I. and Knights of Columbus joined forces Thursday night for a covered dish dinner which came as a birthday celebration for the institute.

The Knights provided a birthday cake whose frosting bore the phrase "Birthday Greetings, 1922-1936." The prettily-decorated confection served as centerpiece at the head of the table, adding to the holiday appointments of red tapers and festoons of cotoneaster.

Individual meetings of the two groups were held following dinner. A program for which institute and knights joined later in the evening, included selections by the choral unit of the WPA. Dancing was enjoyed.

Antone Borchard won a turkey as a special prize. On the committee in charge of the party were Mesdames Walter Markel, Thomas Giesler, Harry Lippitt, Clyde Ashen, Ruth Luhnman and Miss Margaret Young.

COME TO CHURCH

The Church is the meeting place for God and His People

REV. R. F. STEVENS

"FIVE GREAT POWERS OF LIFE"

"And when the Lord saw her He had compassion on her, and said unto her, 'Weep Not.'—Luke 7:13.

On one of the slopes of Mount Hermon stands the little town of Nain. It is just like a hundred of the other little hamlets of the Holy Land, and reposes on a steep hillside, with its white walls, square roofs, and palm and olive groves. But it has a wonderful interest for us today, for there Christ brought a young man back from the dead.

Christ in His life time raised three different people from the dead, and each of them was in a different state of decay. And the Master approached the woman of Nain, whose son was dead. He saw her tears and had compassion on her and said, "Weep not, touched the bier, he rose up living."

In this lesson story we have demonstrated to us, "The Five Great Powers of Life."

I. THE POWER OF DEATH

This poor woman had been robbed by death first of her husband and now her son had been carried off. The power of death is certain to all of us. Time is not in the hands of mortal man but in the hands of Almighty God. David said, "There is but a step betwixt me and death." The man under sentence of death lies sleeping in his cell. Soon he is awakened with a start, as he gazes upon the guards in front of his cell. There outside the prison door is the hideous thing that will take his life. Every one is under the sentence of death. We know not the hour. It is impossible for human skill to deal with the power of death.

II. THE POWER OF LOVE

The poor widow of Nain wept bitterly because she loved her son deeply. All her affections were centered in her son. What will love not do? It is the greatest thing in God, for God is love. "God so loved the world that He gave his only begotten Son, that whosoever believeth in Him should not perish, but have everlasting life." The power of love will do anything. More powerful than steam that runs our engines; than electricity that carries our messages around the world; than the power that blasts the mountains into dust.

Love makes the burdens of life lighter. No matter how difficult the task, love will prompt one to give their life if necessary. Someone has said, "Light is the burden that love lays on." It is an unwearied power. When faith grows faint and feeble, and hope droops her wings, love toils on.

III. THE POWER OF TEARS

Jesus saw the woman weeping and he had compassion on her and said, "Weep not." Tears have the power to transform us. They are the relief valve of the soul. If we could not cry our hearts would break within us. Jesus spent the night in the garden and shed tears for us. He literally died with a broken heart.

Jesus showed the human as well as the divine by His tears. He stood by the grave of his friend Lazarus and wept. He overlooked the city of Jerusalem and cried with a broken heart.

IV. THE POWER OF PRAYER

Prayer is one of the greatest powers of life. Prayer moves the hand that moves the universe. You have only to pull the rope and heaven's great bell rings. Listen to these promises, "If two or three shall be agreed on earth as touching anything and shall ask in my name it shall be given thee," "If ye ask anything in my name I will do it." Its power is commended by the highest examples. All the Saints of the Bible have been mighty in prayer. Jesus spent whole nights in prayer and communion with God.

V. THE POWER OF CHRIST

This is the greatest power of all life. "All power," said Jesus, after His resurrection, "is given unto Me in heaven and on earth."

His power was even shown while he was here on earth. There was power in His presence. When he appeared devils fled and were glad to drown themselves in the sea. There was power in His voice. His matchless voice spoke, "Peace be still," and the waves hushed and the sea became calm. There was power in His hand. He had to but touch the sightless eyes and they were opened.

By becoming conqueror, death, hell and the grave, He showed His power to save. He has power to save to the uttermost, all that come unto God by Him. It is this saving power in which we trust; in which we must believe. Without the resurrected Christ, as Paul says, "We are of men most miserable."

Postal Employees

Santa Claus has many reindeer, but chief among them are the Mail Carriers.

They are entrusted with our deepest secrets, they carry nonchalantly our sweet miseries of love, and the black-bordered letters of misfortune, they are our ambassadors in business—our "Mail Carriers" are very important individuals.

At this particular time of the year "Our Mail Carrier" is stooped under the load of sentimental phrases from our friends, boxes (and how he appreciates a securely tied up package) from home, packages, in each case our "Mail Carrier" is the agent.

It is through his indomitable spirit that our Christmas is made more happy. It is through his consecration to an ideal of service that our mail (packages, boxes and folders) arrive on time and generally in excellent condition.

Help him—tie your packages securely—use typewritten labels, grease pencil or lead pencil for written addresses, they do not smear in case of rain or snow, thereby making delivery improbable or impossible.

Pay homage to him; acknowledge your appreciation of the many favors he has given you; lighten his load by adding a sincere "Merry Christmas."

Stamp News

By I. S. Klein

FOLLOWING the example of Luxembourg, in 1935, France has released four stamps, with surtaxes added, "for the relief of intellectuals." There are four in the series, with the pictures of the artist and engraver, Callot; the composer, Berlioz; the writer, Victor Hugo; and the scientist, Pasteur, distributed singly among them.

Christmas time also produces a run of "Charity" stamps in the countries of Europe. One of the most beautiful of this type is the set of eight stamps issued by Belgium and bearing the picture of the little Crown Prince Baudouin of Belgium, son of King Leopold III and the late Queen Astrid. It shows a plain photograph of the smiling crown prince in profile.

On the occasion of the international stamp exposition in Paris, in 1937, France, it is said, will issue new postage for every French colony. That would mean about 200 additional stamps of a commemorative type.

A new stamp may soon be expected to arrive in this country from Argentina—commemorating the visit of President Roosevelt to Buenos Aires.

China has celebrated the fortieth anniversary of its postal system with a series of four pictorial stamps.

The Mixing Bowl

By Ann Meredith

The martyr complex is out, in case you dieters are interested. By that I mean that there is no sense in disciplining a demanding appetite to the point where it revolts and upsets all the good results of your diet by going on a gorgeous gorge. I have found a vegetable powder, known as "Potassium Broth", a combination of seven or more vegetables, sundried, powdered and bottled, ready to use as a seasoning, or to make a broth. This powdered vegetable product may be obtained at any of the "natural food" stores throughout the country.

One teaspoonful of the potassium powder makes a cup of broth that satisfies appetite for fully two hours, and does not in any way disturb the diet routine. Incidentally, you may be interested to know that two tablespoonfuls of this vegetable powder is equal to four pounds of fresh uncooked green vegetable... that's an "out" for the spinach-hating child.

We are looking for unusual or very good recipes to use for publication in our Wednesday "Contributors' Day Column". How would you like to exchange your favorite recipe for our big Calory list? (Please don't forget the so necessary stamped, self-addressed envelope, will you?)

EAT AND GROW SLIM MENUS

Breakfast
Choice of:
Dish of spiced apple sauce (saccharine-sweetened)
1 large orange, sliced, no sugar
1-2 glass of canned pineapple juice with juice of 1-2 lemon
Poached egg with parsley and 1-2 cube butter on 1 slice dark toast (soy bean bread)
1 cup coffee with 1-4 cup hot skimmed milk, no sugar
Calory total, 310.
Increase the menu for the family by adding cereal and top milk, more toast, jam, and choice of hot breakfast drinks.

Luncheon
Cup of Potassium Broth
3 ry-crisp crackers with 1 cube butter
Ripe apple or ripe pear
Pot of clear tea, lemon and saccharin if desired.
Calory total, 300.
A fairly hearty cooked dessert converts the diet luncheon into a family meal.

Dinner
Small sirloin steak
1-2 baked potato
3 heaping tablespoons Brussels sprouts

Dish of stewed tomatoes
Green salad, Italian style
Coffee with 1 tablespoon thin cream and 1 lump sugar.
Calory total, 550.
Dinner Recipes
A quarter-pound steak is the diet allowance. Cook it on a dry pan.

Brussels Sprouts: After cooking and draining them, take out the diet allowance and dress it with a spoonful of mineral oil mayonnaise. Dress remainder with lemon juice and butter for the family meal.

Green Salad, Italian Style: Rub bowl with garlic, tear apart two firm heads of lettuce (do not wash) add 1 large sweet onion, finely cubed, lots of clipped parsley, and 1 large avocado, sliced (optional). Add salt and lots of coarsely ground black pepper, and pour over the greens 3 tablespoons of olive oil. Toss greens with two forks until well coated with oil, then add 1 tablespoon of Italian wine vinegar, or lemon juice. This is a superb salad and one you can eat every day in the year and not tire of it. The quantities given will serve six people.

Au revoir ANN MEREDITH.

A JURY'S ERROR?

Was it a mistake a jury in superior court made Thursday when it found Lee Holliday, 20, guilty of a criminal attack upon a 17-year-old Santa Ana girl but recommended a county jail sentence?

Superior Judge James L. Allen thought so. The judge believed Holliday should have been sentenced to the state's prison. He said so with a voice vibrating with anger. And knowing the evidence, we agree with Judge Allen that the sentence was not severe enough. But, after all, a jury is a group of 12 persons who are peers, presumably, of the man or woman on trial. And human emotions are something no one yet has been able to cope with.

All there is to say is, Holliday is fortunate he had 12 peers to judge his case.

And we wonder how many members of the jury have daughters.

WARMER'S SINCERITY EVIDENCED

We have the utmost respect for anyone who will frankly and sincerely publicly defend and express his position on fundamental, social, and economic problems, whether we agree with them or not.

It is for this reason that we very much respect Rev. George Warmer's frankness and courage in discussing in public controversial economic questions. The fact that he is willing to discuss them publicly shows his sincerity in his belief. It is the bluffer, the four-flusher, who does not want a public hearing as to the merits of his position, who is to be feared. The man who believes he is right is always willing to have all the light possible thrown on his contentions. He invites exceptions. A man who is guilty of something under cover is the one who never wants a public hearing.

It is the discussing of theories and wishes among sheltered groups or among those who have not had the experience, or the training, to understand their fallacies and refusing to publicly discuss them where they can be challenged that results in misunderstandings and does great damage. The man who is willing to discuss his opinions openly and publicly, where the advantages or disadvantages may be compared, is the one who will help serve society and the community as a whole. There then is opportunity to correct the errors in logic.

It is light, light and more light on these fundamental social and economic problems that we want. We have too long refused to discuss them openly and publicly.

Again we say, we admire men like Warmer, who hold important positions and when asked will publicly express his opinions whether we agree with them or not.

OF IMPORTANCE

While it may seem of little importance as an official act by a city employee, the recommendation of Sergeant B. A. Hershey, head of Santa Ana's motorcycle patrol, that no type of shrubbery which attains a height greater than 14 inches, be planted in the center parkway plots along North Flower street and North Park boulevard, is of much importance because traffic accidents throughout America, as well as in this country, are a major problem.

Several accidents have resulted along North Flower and along North Park because of high shrubbery, during the past year. However beautiful, any shrubbery which obscures the motorist's vision, in Santa Ana, or elsewhere, should be put in proper condition to safeguard lives of people.

Sergeant Hershey's recommendation was made to the Forestry board Thursday night and that group agreed to take the recommendation under advisement. The officer pointed out that shrubbery along the two traffic arteries stands from two to eight feet high and has resulted in numerous near-accidents and several accidents recently.

Seventy-six persons have died in traffic accidents this year, in Orange county. Records show that six of those deaths resulted from accidents in Santa Ana and three others at the city boundary line; that is a good record for Santa Ana, comparatively speaking. Perhaps it is such recommendations as Sergeant Hershey has just made, which have kept this city's accident record low. At any rate, we feel that Sergeant Hershey's recommendation is a good one.

BREAKING OF GROUND

Without meaning the least bit of offense to anyone anywhere, the committees that have handled Santa Ana's poppy-planting and civic beautification project, have virtually said to the stranger to the real Santa Ana: "We have no room for cynics." And they mean just that. Because the actual breaking of ground and sowing of poppy seeds began early yesterday.

Members of these groups admitted themselves there were persons who believe the plan couldn't be worked out. They were undaunted because this type of healthy criticism crops up against any idea or cause, no matter what its ramifications.

It is a manifestation of human nature, a sort of spur, which, in this instance, urged the committees on to great success. But the committee members do not take the credit. They want everyone to know that if it had not been for the financial aid of service clubs and public-spirited organizations, the plan could not have been possible. And this is true. There must always be the initiator, or inventor if you will, and then the vehicle on which his idea must be carried to materialization.

So it is again that energy and progressive thinking combined with finance to start what promises to be the most widespread civic schemes in the city's history. Property owners now are getting the spirit. Soon there will be poppy beds in all sections of the city. Then will come permanent plants and greater beautification. And then tourists and visitors from all parts and climes cannot but hail Santa Ana and its spirit as one of the most impressive to be encountered anywhere. We all have just reason to be proud.

WHO IS THE JUDGE OF EDUCATION IN DEMOCRACY

A news dispatch from Madison, Wisconsin, states that there is a movement on to force retirement of Dr. Glenn Frank as president of the state university.

Dr. Glenn Frank writes daily for The Register and many other papers. He is constantly writing about academic freedom. The charge is that Dr. Frank lacks administrative ability, has lost the confidence of his associates and has permitted "questionable" practices regarding expenditures.

This is a concrete example of the difficulties of permitting state education to function without political influence. Under state schools, invariably the voting majority insists on teaching what they regard as intelligent and important. Under a democracy there seems to be no other way. The voting majority has the final say, even in such an all important thing as intelligent education.

It is here that private colleges can be granted the academic freedom that the different sponsors believe is important. If there are enough different kinds of sponsors, there can be many different philosophies of education and on a free and competitive basis the education that develops the strongest characters is eventually the institution that survives. Under a state school program there is no yard stick, no test, as to efficiency and results excepting the voting majority.

Judging from the articles Glenn Frank writes, he does lack administrative ability as his theories presented in his articles often do not seem at all practical.

The news dispatch, however, intimates that Governor LaFollette is back of the move to force the retirement of Frank. It is evident that Frank is not enough of a dreamer, a radical and a painter of wish pictures to suit LaFollette and he is only using the charges that are presented as an excuse to remove him.

It is a nice example of the difficulties of state institutions.

News Behind The News

By Paul Mallon

WASHINGTON, Dec. 19.—The personal mood of this assembling congress is not like anything within the memory of oldest authorities. Usually, at this stage of the game, the arriving legislators are making daily announcements about what should be done. They are rushing out with new bills which they will propose to reform the world. There is none of that now. Quiet reigns. A few returning statesmen have announced laws they intend to propose, but the newsmen have not considered most of these sufficient-ly important to warrant publication. There is only one important thing in the legislative mind. That is the program President Roosevelt intends to offer. The legislators appreciate that they were elected because of him and not because of anything they advocated. Those not in this majority class realize that nothing they can say will make any difference. Even the southern Democrats are not privately whispering, as they did in earlier New Deal years, that a restraining hand should be placed on one phase or another of the Roosevelt policies. Their private conversation is entirely cooperative.

The result is a practical change in the ordinary government relationship between congress and the executive. Today, in mood at least, congress is not a restraint upon the executive, but a willing cooperative agent.

Snell and those of his school will try to hold as many of the Republican crowd as they can to a middle-of-the-road course, taking neither the conservative nor the liberal path.

HOW LONG

Speaker Bankhead and the other leaders have mourned publicly that the sprawling Democratic majority will soon break up into blocs. That is an old political axiom, but this is not an old political congress. Actually, no serious split-up is expected. A few diversions are certain to develop on every issue, but the leaders have such a large majority they can afford to spare a good many votes without losing control.

The lamenting leaders are not unmindful that the situation is mostly in Mr. Roosevelt's hands. He lost his hold on the 1934 congress after election by proposing the unpopular world court issue at the outset of the senate session. Weeks were required before he regained his leadership, and in fact, he eventually regained it.

If he exerts his usual caution in congressional leadership, and makes no further world court mistakes, congress is very likely to contribute its share to an unprecedented "era of good feeling" during the next year.

WAITING

Republican Chairman Hamilton once said the few remaining Republican legislators would furnish the party leadership. The struggling remnants of the lost guard on the scene so far do not seem to contain many ideas.

The agitation of Congressman Hamilton Fish to force a reorganization it looks like toy soldiers wheeled in the Prince of Peace—a bit incongruous. Don't you think it would be better business to print the news without suppression (so notable in your columns lately) or coloration (always a temptation) and be a little more careful of your facts when reporting them editorially?

STABILIZING AMERICA

In all our deep and rightful concern over stabilizing the national future, ever seeing to it that we shall not allow the national economy to get so seriously out of balance as it did in the pre-depression days, we must keep sun-clear the difference between sound and unsound stabilization.

At the very outset of the depression I called attention to this distinction. We can achieve an unsound sort of stabilization by putting a bit in the teeth of the wild horse of production, slowing down his pace until he trots amiably along at the same gait as that which the tamer horse of current consumption is able to maintain.

But a sound stabilization cannot be content with any such acceptance of current consumptive power as a standard of determining production.

We do not want a static balance between production and consumption.

The dynamic stabilization we want is simply an intelligently regularized growth.

But it is GROWTH, mind you, that we want. The only sound and defensible objective for our national economy is the intelligently regularized use for human benefit of the maximum possible production of our best genius.

This means that the key to any sound stabilization of our national enterprise is to be found in bringing the rate of growth of purchasing power up to the rate of growth in our productive power.

It is the small talk of small minds to take present buying power as a standard for determining what our national production should be.

OUR CHILDREN

BY ANGELO PATRI

HEAD AND HEELS

Our grandmothers used to tell us to let our heads save our heels. I thought of that a few days ago when I watched what was almost a tragedy on one of the streets of the city.

The car I was riding in stopped at the signal light. A fine looking girl, about sixteen or seventeen, started across the street. She had her dog in her arms, the better to insure his safety, although he was on a leash. As she neared the curb a car came rather swiftly around the corner and she felt that she must hurry. Unfortunately she was wearing shoes with high, wobbly heels, and as she speeded her walk into what was almost a run, the heels turned this way and that and it seemed as if she must fall under the wheels of the approaching car.

She was no chicken-hearted child, this. She saw her danger, and gave the last effort she had to save the little dog. Stopping as she went, she swung the little creature in her arms and tossed him to safety and as she did so a smart young man who had come behind her, swung her out of harm's way. As she and the dog and the casual young men disappeared in the street crowds I hoped that she would, in the future, allow her head to save her heels, and her heels to have her head.

We are all very anxious about the safety of all who go up and down the highways and cross the narrow ways of the cities and towns upon their daily occupations. We time lights to the split second, we set up signs and then more signs. We have safety cameras and every now and then, a town meeting, all in the hope of saving life and limb. All this is good, but there is more to be done, perhaps the most important phase of the safety question. People, old and young, must be trained, taught, practiced in making their heads save their heels.

Girls and women should wear easy-fitting shoes when they walk about the streets and save the high heels for dress occasions in the house. A properly fitting shoe gives support to the body and allows the easy, swinging stride that makes for sureness and speed. Blind hurry crossing the street is an almost certain way to an accident. Add to the hurry a pair of unmanageable heels and only a miracle will avoid the disastrous end.

Too many of us are being killed on the roads and the streets of the country. A machine has no brains. It must obey the mind that directs it. But — and this must be accepted by the pedestrians — unless the driver's mind meets with intelligent co-operation from the pedestrian's mind, the mindless machine does its terrible work.

It is all very well to say that a pedestrian has the right of way. He has. But that fact is rather bare of comfort when the pedestrian is stretched on his bed of pain in the hospital. Do let us try to have our heads save our heels, and, just to even things up, allow our heels to save our heads. Do let us try to help preserve our safety and the safety of others by cooperating cheerfully with the drivers, with the traffic officers, and the people of the communities through which we ride. After all this is for our own sake. And next time, when laughter goes out to walk the dog give a glance at the shoes she is wearing.

Editor Register:
I take this opportunity to thank you for the courtesy you have extended us in presenting to the public our side of the present maritime issue.

My sincere wishes for your continued success.

Respectfully,
ELVIN M. ZITLER,
Orange, Calif.

Editor Register:

For a considerable period of time I have consistently refused to appear at, or take any part in, your forum as you well know. You have, personally, urged my appearance time and again.

The reason I absented myself is because numbers of my friends have told me that anybody, who did take part, exposed themselves to bitter attack and misrepresentation in your paper.

I leave to the judgment of my friends the accuracy of the warnings that I had had.

You refer to the columns of your paper being open. This I sincerely doubt, I also question the advisability of any lengthy discussion of economic problems in a paper such as the Register now is.

Suffice it to say that the statement you charge to me was not made. What was said had no connotation of dumbness on the part of business men, although from your editorials not all of them appear to be well informed or infallible, nor are preachers.

The statement was a rhetorical question, in the midst of debate, which was not intended, and did not, cast any reflection on any man or group. The statement was: "Is it possible that business men are so dumb that they do not know that buying power is a necessity to good business?" (The question answers itself in the negative). "If so, they are too dumb to carry on long in the socially complicated time in which we live."

I was not discussing wages at all, but governmental responsibility, when this statement was made. The government makes its attitude clear by a determined drive to spread buying power, and the government, for the most part, is the business man in action socially and economically.

Over and over during the evening I stated that I was not necessarily expressing my own views but was rather defending the affirmative of a proposition you asked me to disprove. This precaution I took because of the warning referred to above.

Now, Mr. Hollis, do you think, under these circumstances, that your open attack on Mrs. Golden Weston, who was not present, and I, as your speaker guest, is quite fair? Especially, since you invited, and urged, me to participate in the program.

If you want to meet me in debate on some of the questions raised in your editorial, at my convenience and, under open forum auspices, I might take you on. I am not afraid of these questions and I have more than one string on my violin.

In closing let me say that I have had favorable comment from many business men and others, and a few appreciative letters from cultured folks, who were present, as to both the content and spirit of the debate of Tuesday evening.
